Victorious Castro Forces Move into Cuban Capital

Ike Urges Soviet To Act for Peace

GETTYSBURG, Pa. (AP)—President Eisenhower has told Russian leaders their professed desire for peace should be applied to their handling of the Berlin crisis.

He made a pointed reply in an exchange of New Year's greetings with Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev and President Klement E. Voroshilov.

Their message, delivered to Eisenhower's farm home near here, expressed hope that 1959 would see an end to "fears of the dangers of a new world war."

Eisenhower — watching a football game on television when the message came in — fired back a cablegram saying he shared the Russians' hopes. He agreed that "genuine efforts" might well be fruitful.

He went on to say: "As of this moment it seems to us critically important to apply the sentiments expressed in your message to the Berlin situation. In this connection, I cannot fail to recall your government's declaration toward the people of Berlin."

He referred to the Russians' announced intention to make Berlin a free city — which would mean Western withdrawal from a key city that, in this country's view, would then inevitably come under Communist rule.

Eisenhower said the Russians' moves to take over Berlin "are not in accord with your expressed aspirations and hopes for peaceful coexistence."

Then Eisenhower reiterated the stand taken by the United States, Britain and France in formal notes delivered only Wednesday to the Kremlin. Those notes, rejecting ing Russia's demand that they agree within six months to leave Berlin, suggested a general conference on German problems.

"The United States government," Eisenhower said, "repeats that, in an atmosphere devoid of any kind of coercion and threat, it would welcome discussion on the question of Berlin in the wider framework of the whole German problem and European security. Positive progress in this specific problem would, I deeply believe, give real substance to the hope that 1959 would witness great advances toward the goal of a just and lasting peace."

Rebel Groups Command as Batista Flees

HAVANA (AP)—Advance spearheads of Fidel Castro's revolutionary forces entered Havana today.

Trucks loaded of bearded guerrilla fighters rolled into the city over the main central highway from the eastern provinces of Matanzas and Las Villas and sped along the Malecon Sea Boulevard toward the former military headquarters of deposed President Batista at Camp Columbia.

As the Castro forces advanced, Cuba's 6,300,000 war-weary people had two provisional presidents. Neither occupied the chair vacated by dictator Fulgencio Batista, who fled in the darkness of the new year morning Thursday.

The streets of Havana were tense and alive with expectation. The triumphant Castro partisans, who had seemed to emerge armed from nowhere Thursday to take over control of the capital, kept a tight lid on the situation to prevent pent-up public emotion from creating a chaotic situation.

Youthful, bearded Castro early today proclaimed ex-Judge Manuel Urrutia de Oriente Province as provisional President of the republic with his temporary government in Castro's native Santiago de Cuba. Castro apparently intends momentarily to move the government to Havana.

In this capital sits the last vestige of a shell of government left behind when he fled the country early New Year's day. But the government had no control over either the army or the police who now get their orders from rebel leaders installed at Camp Columbia in a Havana suburb.

The Castro troops entering Havana were unopposed. They were led by the Argentine physician, Ernesto Guevara, and Camilo Cienfuegos, two of the rebel chief's hard-fighting field commanders.

A final showdown obviously is near. Castro announced today he would not accept what he called a coup d'etat arranged by Batista. Thus he rejects the provisional government which purports to be headed by Supreme Court Justice Carlos Piedra.

Castro claimed Maj. Gen. Eulogio Cantillo, who headed the junta left by Batista, had betrayed the revolution's leadership by letting the chief figures of the Batista government escape from the country.

The country will remain in a state of paralysis from a general strike ordered by Castro until Urrutia takes over in Havana.

Castro spoke just before dawn to a huge crowd in Santiago, the capital of easternmost Oriente province, after a parade of orators had hailed his leadership and his selection of Urrutia.

Castro said the road to Santiago, occupied Thursday after the defending garrison surrendered, had been a long and hard one. He called Santiago "the strongest fortress of the revolution" and said its triumph was being crowned by making it the provisional capital for some 12 hours, until he and Urrutia go to Havana.

Castro's supporters controlled all communications and every radio broadcast referred to Urrutia as "provisional president of Cuba."

Former President Carlos Prío Socarras, an exile in Miami since Batista ousted him by military coup in 1952, arrived meanwhile in Havana. Prío has supported Castro's revolt from exile. He and all other revolutionary organizations recently agreed to accept Urrutia as provisional president.

There was little doubt that this island republic would accept Urrutia, a former judge about 56 years old who long has been Castro's choice to succeed Batista until free elections can be held.

Castro called a general strike across Cuba until Urrutia was installed. The strike seemed 100 per cent effective, thus removing any question of remnants from the Batista regime trying to run the country.

Castro was still in Santiago, the capital of easternmost Oriente province and birthplace of his battle against Batista. Celebrations of his victory continued there all night.

Until Urrutia takes over in Havana, Castro's announcements from Santiago provided the only framework of government. Men he designated were giving orders to Cuba's armed forces and police. Castro supporters held Havana under tight control — virtually martial law — today after victory celebrations Thursday led to violence.

Castro, a lawyer who has been a rebel for more than a third of his 32 years, outlined his platform in 1955.

It included nationalization of U.S. financed and operated utilities, splitting up American-owned sugar estates among the peasants, confiscation of all properties acquired through corrupt government and breaking the hold of some big businessmen on Cuba's economy.

The bearded guerrilla warrior has denied Batista's charges that he is a Communist or is Communist-influenced. Castro says his goal is to end corruption, establish democracy and help the small man among the 6,410,000 people of this Pennsylvania-sized island.

Castro and Urrutia were expected to make a triumphant entry into Havana.

Batista Blames Manpower Lack

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Fulgencio Batista figures his army fought a lost cause in Cuba partly because it had an insufficient edge in manpower over Fidel Castro's rebels.

"The dictator who fled into exile here Thursday told newsmen it has been calculated that an army would need 100 men for each guerrilla it fought."

"That was the case of Tito in Yugoslavia and the Chinese Communists," Batista said, referring to Tito's World War II campaign against the Germans and Mao Tse-tung's drive against Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

Batista's 37,000-strong armed forces were estimated to outnumber Castro's men perhaps 6-1 even in the last states of the bloody warfare that finally caused Batista to flee.

He gave left-handed praise to Castro's bushwhacking tactics, saying the rebel chieftain got the jump on the government by restricting his activities at first to guerrilla warfare against rural soldiers not trained for that type of fighting.

He also credited Castro with superior armament, though Batista's forces had tanks and warplanes the rebels lacked. He said the rebels received a continuous flow of weapons while government troops could not be supplied.

The deposed President contended that Castro had dominated rural populations by terror.

"Before this revolt, Castro's life was in my hands three times and three times I pardoned him," Batista said. "I did the same for other revolutionaries."

Asked about the future prospects of Cuban politics he said: "I am not a prophet. I see much confusion."

With Batista are his second wife and three of his eight children. The other children are refugees in the United States.

Red Cross Bloodmobile Due At Methodist Church Monday

Montford Kirkwood, Jr., chairman of the Pickaway County Blood Program, announced today the Red Cross Bloodmobile will visit here Monday. The unit will set up operations in First Methodist Church between 11 a. m. and 5 p. m.

It is pointed out that the need is especially urgent at this time due to Pickaway County's continued failure to make its quota at each visit of the Bloodmobile and the increased need for blood during the holiday season when the accident rate is higher.

Kirkwood stated that the unit from the Columbus Regional Blood Center sets up operation in Pickaway County eight times a year, with a quota of 150 pints of blood each time. This quota is based on the population of the county and its blood needs. During the first half of 1958 residents of Pickaway County received 491 pints of blood in hospitals, while only 294 pints were collected at the Bloodmobile visits.

The Red Cross committee is anxious to remedy this situation, but

City Launches Purchase Plan

Auditor Certificate Is Now Required

Starting off the new year, there will be a tighter rein on city spending.

Wednesday afternoon City Auditor Marv Turner talked with Mayor Ben H. Gordon and his department heads regarding a new system of approving city purchases.

Henceforth, all purchases made for the city will have to be by purchase order or voucher bearing an "auditor's certificate."

The new program was brought about by a suggestion in the state examiner's report on the city's books. The examiner stated that a system of purchase orders and "auditor's certificate", called for by state law, should be instituted here.

The Wednesday meeting was called to explain the workings of the new system. Attending were Mayor Gordon, Safety Director Miller Fissell, Service Director Carl Radcliff, Judge Sterling Lamb, Public Utilities manager Ervin Liest, along with Council President Richard Penn.

Airline Strike Tension Eases

Eastern Engineers OK New Agreement

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Eastern Air Lines readied some of its planes today for limited north-south service in the wake of a 38-day strike by flight engineers. American Airlines remained shut down for the 14th day by a pilots' walkout.

The first inbound Eastern plane at Idlewild Airport—from Miami—was due to arrive shortly before 1 p. m. The first outbound flight to Miami was set for 2:30 p. m.

About 30 flights were scheduled for today with hopes that full service would be restored by next week.

Some 16,000 Eastern employees prepared to go back to their jobs as the line signed a New Year's Eve peace pact with its engineers, and came to an understanding Thursday night with the Air Line Pilots Assn.

Eastern engineers and machinists walked out Nov. 24, grounding the line's 188 planes. Agreement was reached later with the mechanics, but they respected picket lines maintained by the engineers.

The engineers refused to accede to a company request to take jet pilot training. In place of requiring pilot training for the engineers, Eastern announced it will have three pilots on each of its jets. These will be in addition to the engineer.

The last stumbling block to resuming service was removed when Eastern and its pilots signed an agreement which assured the pilots their rights would not suffer from the new contract with the engineers.

The new engineers' contract provisions also provides a new wage scale for DC8 jet airliners, including $1,377 a month for senior flight engineers and 3 1/2 per cent to be paid into a new pension fund.

American Airlines pilots struck Dec. 19 in a demand for higher pay, shorter hours, and compensation for nonflying time away from home. Top pilots' wages at American have been $1,602 a month.

U.S. Social Security Fund Labeled OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special advisory council has completed a year-long study of the nation's Social Security program and found it in good financial shape.

A new schedule of taxes voted by Congress last year "makes adequate provision for meeting both short-range and long-range costs," the 13-member group said in a report made public Thursday.

The tax on both employers and employees provides insurance benefits for elderly persons, survivors of workers and disabled employees. Effective Thursday, both the tax rate and the amount of salary on which it is paid were increased.

Other increases already in the law provide for further tax increases in 1960, 1963, 1966 and 1969. The council said that under present conditions, the scheduled 1969 increase may not be needed.

The advisory group was composed of business and union leaders and experts in the fields of finance, insurance and economics. Congress directed that it be named to study the soundness of the Social Security system.

Bank Reports Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Wednesday, Dec. 31. Ohio state banks received a similar call.

Holiday Traffic Toll Runs High; Record Feared

Hazardous Weather Gets Blame as Death Rate Shows Climb

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Hazardous weather conditions were blamed today for a sharp rise in the nation's New Year holiday traffic death toll.

As of noon today, nationwide figures showed that 154 have died so far in traffic, 26 in fires and 38 in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 214.

As of 1 p. m. today, nationwide figures showed that 154 have died in traffic, 30 in fires and 46 in miscellaneous accidents for a total of 230.

The death toll rate was running ahead of the record total of 409 set in the four-day New Year holiday of 1956-57. It also was a faster clip than the National Safety Council's pre-holiday estimate of 390 deaths for the 102-hour period.

Traffic deaths last year, estimated at 37,000 by the council, averaged about 101 a day. But the slaughter on the highways since the start of the New Year holiday count at 6 p. m. local time Wednesday topped the daily traffic toll in 1958. The count continues until midnight Sunday.

"The weather is bad and the toll is bad," the council said. "The toll is proceeding at an alarming rate. We appeal to every driver to realize that he must hold his speed down and be doubly careful."

Snow, sleet and rain in many sections of the country added to the normal heavy holiday travel Thursday and deaths took a sharp upturn after a comparatively safe start. Treacherous driving conditions were reported in many areas, especially in the Midwest and East. Local blizzard conditions added to the traffic hazards in the high plains and upper Mississippi Valley.

A council spokesman said if the rate of deaths reported Thursday continued, traffic fatalities for the holiday period would exceed 400.

In the one-day New Year's celebration last year, 160 persons lost their lives in traffic accidents. That was the highest total on record for a one-day observance of the New Year holiday.

U.S. Keeps Eye On Cuban Crisis

Danger to Americans On Island Discounted

WASHINGTON (AP)—The U.S. government kept watch today on the safety of its citizens in Cuba and waited cautiously for the formation of a new government there.

Both the White House and the State Department discounted the possibility of major danger to U.S. citizens despite some rioting and uncertainty which followed collapse of the regime of Cuba's President Fulgencio Batista.

They declined any immediate comment on possible steps toward recognition of a new government, now in process of formation under the direction of rebel leader Fidel Castro.

President Eisenhower, vacationing at his Gettysburg, Pa., farm, was kept advised of the situation by telephone, press secretary James C. Hagerty reported.

The Cuban Embassy in Washington, meantime, was taken over in friendly fashion by Castro supporters.

Cuban Ambassador Nicolas Arroyo formally resigned and designated as charge d'affaires the embassy's economic counselor, Dr. Emilio Pando.

Ernesto Betancourt, registered representative of Castro forces in Washington, asked that Pando be put in charge "until an ambassador can be chosen by the rebel government which will take over in Havana in a day or so."

Betancourt said the change of government would not bring nationalization of Cuban sugar plantations or utilities owned by outside interests.

He made the statement during an interview on the NBC-TV "Today" program when asked about a 1955 statement by rebel chief Fidel Castro in which Castro favored nationalization.

"That has been discarded as an impractical and unwise move," replied Betancourt.

Castro cannot be a candidate for president because he's too young.

Silly Prank Fatal to 2, 8 Injured

SAN CARLOS, Ariz. (AP)—A senseless New Year's Day prank backfired into tragedy when a dynamite explosion killed two persons, hospitalized eight others and splintered a one-room house.

Mike Windham, criminal investigator for the Indian Bureau, said partygoers at a San Carlos Reservation wooden frame house were tossing lighted dynamite sticks out the door. He gave this account:

Deb Hinton, 27, a miner, brought home some dynamite from a nearby mine. A holiday group of 10 Indians jammed Hinton's small house for a party. After midnight, they started tossing the dynamite. One of the lighted sticks dropped into a box containing other sticks, setting off the blast.

Hinton and his sister, Mrs. Nona Peaches, 17, were killed.

Five of the injured were in critical condition. Several had limbs blown off or so badly mangled they had to be amputated. All were blinded, at least temporarily. Hospitalized were:

The dead man's brother, Sam; his wife, Gloria, 26; a sister, Manuella, 19; Sam Hinton's wife, Frieda, and their unidentified infant child, sex unknown; Norbert Dennis and McGillis Mallow.

Ohioan Pays Old Debt to Dixie Prison

PARCHMAN, Miss. (AP)—Clencie Farmer was en route to his Ohio home today after settling a 25-year-old account with Mississippi State Prison.

Farmer, 45, owed the state eight months time for burglary when he was 17, but Gov. J. P. Coleman gave him an indefinite suspension after the West Harrison, Ohio, truck driver had spent about five hours in prison Thursday.

He was arrested last Tuesday in Dallas, Tex., when he stopped to refuel his truck, but Coleman authorized Texas officers to release him on condition Farmer would return to prison at his own expense.

Farmer posted $1,000 bond in Dallas, and took the bus for State prison here. He arrived at 11 a. m. and by 4 p. m. he was on a bus bound for his wife and two children in West Harrison, Ohio, a Hamilton county village.

In 1932, Farmer was given three years for burglary in Rankin County, Miss. After serving some time, he got a six-month suspension, but never returned. He said he thought he had a pardon.

City Launches Purchase Plan

Auditor Certificate Is Now Required

Starting off the new year, there will be a tighter rein on city spending.

Wednesday afternoon City Auditor Marv Turner talked with Mayor Ben H. Gordon and his department heads regarding a new system of approving city purchases.

Henceforth, all purchases made for the city will have to be by purchase order or voucher bearing an "auditor's certificate."

The new program was brought about by a suggestion in the state examiner's report on the city's books. The examiner stated that a system of purchase orders and "auditor's certificate", called for by state law, should be instituted here.

The Wednesday meeting was called to explain the workings of the new system. Attending were Mayor Gordon, Safety Director Miller Fissell, Service Director Carl Radcliff, Judge Sterling Lamb, Public Utilities manager Ervin Liest, along with Council President Richard Penn.

STATE LAW requires a certificate by the city auditor be attached to all purchase orders in making any contract with the city. In general it says that the city cannot make any contract or give any order involving the expenditure of money unless the auditor has certified that the amount required to meet the obligation is lawfully appropriated, and is in the treasury.

Since no contract can be made without the auditor's certificate, all local businessmen are asked to require the certificate on all city purchases. The state law says that all contracts made without the auditor's certificate are void, and the city will not be required to pay for contracts made without the certificate.

In most cases the move will tend to halt purchase by unauthorized personnel. It also will allow the department heads to keep better tab on the cash situation in the city treasury. To businessmen dealing with the city, the system will mean payment of bills more promptly, however, they should require the auditor's certificate or the transaction may be declared void.

U.S. Social Security Fund Labeled OK

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special advisory council has completed a year-long study of the nation's Social Security program and found it in good financial shape.

A new schedule of taxes voted by Congress last year "makes adequate provision for meeting both short-range and long-range costs," the 13-member group said in a report made public Thursday.

The tax on both employers and employees provides insurance benefits for elderly persons, survivors of workers and disabled employees. Effective Thursday, both the tax rate and the amount of salary on which it is paid were increased.

Other increases already in the law provide for further tax increases in 1960, 1963, 1966 and 1969. The council said that under present conditions, the scheduled 1969 increase may not be needed.

The advisory group was composed of business and union leaders and experts in the fields of finance, insurance and economics. Congress directed that it be named to study the soundness of the Social Security system.

Bank Reports Sought

WASHINGTON (AP)—The comptroller of the currency today issued a call for a statement of the condition of all national banks at the close of business Wednesday, Dec. 31. Ohio state banks received a similar call.

Rayburn Moves To Stamp Out Minor Revolt within House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A series of huddles centering around House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) was expected today to stamp out a budding revolt against the power of the House Rules Committee.

The revolt is led by a sizable group of self-styled liberals. The Rules Committee now is dominated by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats.

The liberals seek to limit the committee's power to bottle up legislation. They would do this either by a change in House rules or by the addition of a liberal Democrat to the committee, now composed of eight Democrats and four Republicans.

Rayburn returned late Thursday from his Texas ranch, where he has been vacationing since Congress adjourned last summer.

He wouldn't comment on the rules proposals, but there were clear signs he would oppose them. He apparently was quietly sizing up the situation and lining up his forces for a showdown at the Democratic caucus next Tuesday morning.

Leaders of the liberal group reported privately that Rayburn already has wooed away much of the support they had counted on. Telephone calls even before Rayburn left Texas, they said, convinced them that the speaker was dead set against changing the rules.

Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass) has told newsmen he has an agreement with Rayburn which would leave the Rules Committee lineup unchanged. There are two Republican vacancies, and they are slated to go to Reps. Edgar Chenoweth (R-Colo) and Carroll Reece (R-Tenn) if they want them.

If the liberals lose in Tuesday's Democratic caucus, they probably will try again Wednesday when the House convenes formally and adopts rules for the new session.

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—A Melbourne air conditioning and refrigeration firm has applied to use America's talking Atlas satellite to advertise its wares from outer space.

Soon after the Atlas orbited on Dec. 22, the firm cabled authorities at Cape Canaveral: "Please quote rates for 30-word spot announcement to be broadcast to earth from Atlas satellite featuring our firm."

Fight Victim Treated At Berger Hospital

William Kendall was treated at Berger Hospital for injuries suffered in an alleged fight yesterday at his home on the Water Works Road west of here.

Kendall told sheriff's deputies that he was beaten by Thomas Tilton following an argument early yesterday. Deputy Charles Felkey said Tilton is being held for further investigation pending filing of assault and battery charges.

Navy's Counterspies Are Victims of Thief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—The year started badly for the local branch of the U. S. Navy Department of Counter-Intelligence.

It was notified on New Year's Day that one of its sedans had been stolen by a 14-year-old boy. "The Navy made it easy for me. They left the key in the ignition," he told authorities.

A spokesman for the All-Japan Airways said a confectionery wholesaler, Akira Emoto, 31, tried to blow up himself and the plane with 25 sticks of dynamite.

He said Emoto failed, and opened the plane's door and jumped to his death in the sea.

The spokesman said the dynamite and a burned-out fuse were found in the lavatory and two more sticks in Emoto's baggage.

The plane was flying at about 2,500 feet when Emoto jumped.

He and his bride, Chieko, 19, were traveling to visit their relatives.

Mrs. Emoto was unable to give any coherent account.

Driver Cited For OMVI

Circleville Municipal Court cases today included one motorist arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Today's rather light list of traffic cases indicated that most drivers here were on their good behavior during the New Year's festivities.

The intoxicated driving count was against Howard Johnson, 20, Clinton County Air Force Base. Arrested by the sheriff's department, he was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Johnson also was fined $25 and costs for resisting arrest. The affidavit was filed by Deputy Charles Felkey.

TODAY'S docket also listed $26.50 bond forfeitures by James Blankenship, 38, Cedar Grove, W. Va., and Charles Rowe, 28, Columbus. They were cited by the State Highway Patrol for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Two other State Highway Patrol arrests were: Thomas A. Richards Jr., 27, Reynoldsburg; $25 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Stanley Wilkinson, 24, of 335 Watt St.; $10 and costs for passing a stop sign.

VA Office Lists Spending

A total of $20,448.46 was brought into Pickaway County during 1958 as a result of new claims granted by the County Veterans Service office, it was noted today by Service Officer, James Shea.

Included in the new claims were Veterans Administration pensions, compensation and death benefits. During 1957 a total of $23,507.79 was meted out by the Veterans Service office.

Shea stated 1958 was by far the busiest year of the office's existence. Money allotted by the Service Office is obtained through a 0.5 mill tax levied on county residents.

Shea had between 225 to 300 interviews per month. During December 1958 $1,182.20 was allotted for Soldiers' Relief entailing 74 cases.

A total of 211 contacts were made by Shea during the past month. The Service office is located in the basement of the courthouse.

Q. "Please discuss trench mouth. Can it be cured?"—An Ohio reader.
A. Trench mouth (Vincent's angina) is an infection of the mouth and throat due to a spiral germ which is often associated with a spindle-shaped organism. There is usually pain on swallowing, gland enlargement, and a yellowish-grey membrane in the mouth and throat. Saliva flows freely and the breath has a bad odor. The condition can be cleared up by good dental care and drugs used or prescribed by the physician or dentist.

Q. "Are chemicals used to color fruits? If so, is the coloring matter harmful?"—A Canadian reader.
A. Certain food products are artificially colored. However, the government permits use of only those dyes that are "certified" as harmless.

Rebellion in Cuba Is Anti-Dictator

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Cuba's nagging, two-year-old rebellion has never followed the pattern of the traditional banana-republic grab for power. It appears to fit in more with Latin America's long history of struggle against dictatorship.

Only time will tell whether the bloody revolt will really bring political freedom to Cuba. That island nation has passed through a monotonous succession of dictatorships during half a century of independence.

The big unknown in the revolt is its rangy, bearded leader, Fidel Castro.

Free elections, civil liberties and democracy are his rallying cry, but Castro is the son of a wealthy planter who has been a rebel since his student days in Havana. He has never held office or had a chance to show his true political colors.

Castro's opponent is President Fulgencio Batista, a tough former army sergeant who first seized power in 1933 and calls Castro "a renegade, a murdering outlaw and a Communist with a long criminal record."

Castro denies that he is a Communist. But many Americans with an intimate knowledge of Cuba say the island's Reds are helping the rebel chief and will make him their tool if he ever gets into power.

Castro has attracted perhaps 5,000 men now under arms against Batista. For months they were no match in an open battle with Batista's armed forces, which number around 35,000 and are well equipped, mostly with U. S. arms.

So Castro has used hit-and-run guerrilla tactics since he landed on Cuba's southwest coast with a nucleus of 81 men on Dec. 2, 1956.

The tactics have undercut Batista's main source of power — Cuba's unmatched prosperity. Much of the tourist trade has been frightened away. Rebel destruction of roads, bridges and transport in eastern Cuba is endangering prospects for marketing and milling this year's sugar crop.

Rebel spokesmen insist they do not want to damage the main support of Cuba's economy, but planters are apprehensive. The market in sugar futures indicates pessimism on this year's crop outlook.

The worse conditions grow in Cuba, the more chance Castro has to succeed in his long-range strategy of fomenting unrest.

Rayburn Moves To Stamp Out Minor Revolt within House

WASHINGTON (AP)—A series of huddles centering around House Speaker Sam Rayburn (D-Tex) was expected today to stamp out a budding revolt against the power of the House Rules Committee.

The revolt is led by a sizable group of self-styled liberals. The Rules Committee now is dominated by a coalition of Republicans and Southern Democrats.

The liberals seek to limit the committee's power to bottle up legislation. They would do this either by a change in House rules or by the addition of a liberal Democrat to the committee, now composed of eight Democrats and four Republicans.

Rayburn returned late Thursday from his Texas ranch, where he has been vacationing since Congress adjourned last summer.

He wouldn't comment on the rules proposals, but there were clear signs he would oppose them. He apparently was quietly sizing up the situation and lining up his forces for a showdown at the Democratic caucus next Tuesday morning.

Leaders of the liberal group reported privately that Rayburn already has wooed away much of the support they had counted on. Telephone calls even before Rayburn left Texas, they said, convinced them that the speaker was dead set against changing the rules.

Republican Leader Joseph W. Martin Jr. (Mass) has told newsmen he has an agreement with Rayburn which would leave the Rules Committee lineup unchanged. There are two Republican vacancies, and they are slated to go to Reps. Edgar Chenoweth (I. Colo.) and Carroll Reece (R-Tenn) if they want them.

If the liberals lose in Tuesday's Democratic caucus, they probably will try again Wednesday when the House convenes formally and adopts rules for the new session.

Firm Seeks To Buy Ad on Atlas Radio

MELBOURNE, Australia (AP)—A Melbourne air conditioning and refrigeration firm has applied to use America's talking Atlas satellite to advertise its wares from outer space.

Soon after the Atlas orbited on Dec. 22, the firm cabled authorities at Cape Canaveral: "Please quote rates for 30-second spot announcement to be broadcast to earth from Atlas satellite featuring our firm."

Fight Victim Treated At Berger Hospital

William Kendall was treated at Berger Hospital for injuries suffered in an alleged fight yesterday at his home on the Water Works Road west of here.

Kendall told sheriff's deputies that he was beaten by Thomas Tilton following an argument early yesterday. Deputy Charles Felkey said Tilton is being held for further investigation pending filing of assault and battery charges.

Navy's Counterspies Are Victims of Thief

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The year started badly for the local branch of the U. S. Navy Department of Counter-Intelligence.

It was notified on New Year's Day that one of its sedans had been stolen by a 14-year-old boy.

"The Navy made it easy for me. They left the key in the ignition," he told authorities.

Driver Cited For OMVI

Circleville Municipal Court cases today included one motorist arrested for driving under the influence of intoxicants.

Today's rather light list of traffic cases indicated that most drivers here were on their good behavior during the New Year's festivities.

The intoxicated driving count was against Howard Johnson, 20, Clinton County Air Force Base. Arrested by the sheriff's department, he was fined $100 and costs, sentenced to three days in jail and had his driver's license suspended for six months.

Johnson also was fined $25 and costs for resisting arrest. The affidavit was filed by Deputy Charles Felkey.

TODAY'S docket also listed $26.50 bond forfeitures by James Blankenship, 38, Cedar Grove, W. Va., and Charles Rowe, 29, Columbus. They were cited by the State Highway Patrol for speeding at 70 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Two other State Highway Patrol arrests were:

Thomas A. Richards Jr., 27, Reynoldsburg; $25 and costs for speeding at 75 miles per hour in a 50 mile zone.

Stanley Wilkinson, 24, of 335 Watt St.; $10 and costs for passing a stop sign.

VA Office Lists Spending

A total of $29,448.46 was brought into Pickaway County during 1958 as a result of new claims granted by the County Veterans Service office, it was noted today by Service Officer, James Shea.

Included in the new claims were Veterans Administration pensions, compensation and death benefits. During 1957 a total of $23,507.79 was meted out by the Veterans Service office.

Shea stated 1958 was by far the busiest year of the office's existence. Money allotted by the Service Office is obtained through a 0.5 mill tax levied on county residents.

Shea had between 225 to 300 interviews per month. During December 1958 $1,182.20 was allotted for Soldiers' Relief entailing 74 cases.

A total of 211 contacts were made by Shea during the past month. The Service office is located in the basement of the courthouse.

WHAT DOCTORS SAY ABOUT:

- Trench Mouth
- Food Coloring
- Dehydration

Q. "Please discuss trench mouth. Can it be cured?"—An Ohio reader.

A. Trench mouth (Vincent's angina) is an infection of the mouth and throat due to a spiral germ which is often associated with a spindle-shaped organism. There is usually pain on swallowing, gland enlargement, and a yellowish-grey membrane in the mouth and throat. Saliva flows freely and the breath has a bad odor. The condition can be cleared up by good dental care and drugs used or prescribed by the physician or dentist.

Q. "Are chemicals used to color fruits? If so, is the coloring matter harmful?"—A Canadian reader.

A. Certain food products are artificially colored. However, the government permits use of only those dyes that are "certified" as harmless.

Q. "What is meant by dehydration? What are the symptoms and dangers?"—No name.

Answers do not necessarily reflect the opinion of all doctors. The diagnosis and treatment of disease is the function of the patient's personal physician. Questions directed to Dr. J. D. Rolston, Science Editors, P.O. Box 396, Madison Square Station, N. Y. 10, N. Y., will be incorporated in these columns when possible.

Rebellion in Cuba Is Anti-Dictator

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Cuba's nagging, two-year-old rebellion has never followed the pattern of the traditional banana-republic grab for power. It appears to fit in more with Latin America's long history of struggle against dictatorship.

Only time will tell whether the bloody revolt will really bring political freedom to Cuba. That island nation has passed through a monotonous succession of dictatorships during half a century of independence.

The big unknown in the revolt is its range, bearded leader, Fidel Castro.

Free elections, civil liberties and democracy are his rallying cry, but Castro is the son of a wealthy planter who has been a rebel since his student days in Havana. He has never held office or had a chance to show his true political colors.

Castro's opponent is President Fulgencio Batista, a tough former army sergeant who first seized power in 1933 and calls Castro "a renegade, a murdering outlaw and a Communist with a long criminal record."

Castro denies that he is a Communist. But many Americans with an intimate knowledge of Cuba say the island's Reds are helping the rebel chief and will make him their tool if he ever gets into power.

Castro has attracted perhaps

5,000 men now under arms against Batista. For months they were no match in an open battle with Batista's armed forces, which number around 35,000 and are well equipped, mostly with U. S. arms.

So Castro has used hit-and-run guerrilla tactics since he landed on Cuba's southwest coast with a nucleus of 81 men on Dec. 2, 1956.

The tactics have undercut Batista's main source of power — Cuba's unmatched prosperity. Much of the tourist trade has been frightened away. Rebel destruction of roads, bridges and transport in eastern Cuba is endangering prospects for marketing and milling this year's sugar crop.

Rebel spokesmen insist they do not want to damage the main support of Cuba's economy, but planters are apprehensive. The market in sugar futures indicates pessimism on this year's crop outlook.

The worse conditions grow in Cuba, the more chance Castro has to succeed in his long-range strategy of fomenting unrest.

Tractor Mower Missing

Otto Guenther, E. Main St., reported that a tractor type mower was missing from a garage on Valentine Road east of the city limits. Guenther said the mower is valued at $275. Deputy Sheriff Robert Hoover is investigating.

Newspapers Fail To Sell Selves

Newspapers have done a poor job of press agency in selling themselves as potential employers of the students of the land, according to a survey made by the Dow Jones & Co. publishing firm. As a result, few college graduates show interest in the career of a newspaperman.

It is not that newspapers cannot offer the inducement to which the students have become accustomed. To the contrary, the survey taken by Prof. Alvin E. Austin, head of North Dakota University's journalism department, indicates members of reporting and editing departments are earning more money than at any time in history. The average daily newspaper from which Professor Austin received replies to his inquiries now pays $73 a week for beginning reporters, with a few offerings as much as $100 for novices.

As a part of his year-long research project on newspaper staff recruitment problems, Professor Austin made a survey of 135 large and small daily newspapers and found more than 67 per cent considered shortage of new manpower among their most pressing problems. Many newspapers have initiated training programs to fill their ranks.

Much of the reason for lack of interest in newspaper work among students, ac-ording to Professor Austin, is an almost total void of interesting and up-to-date vocational guidance material on newspaper opportunities in school libraries. As an example, he cited a typical library in New Hampshire which contained books on the newspaper business printed in 1912, 1913, 1915 and 1919. The latest was published in 1940.

It is incongruous that lack of the printed word is causing a declining interest among the coming generations in the Fourth Estate. Newspapers have a continuing need for well educated minds to cope with the unwrapping world of technology. The time to influence young people into newspaper careers is during the formative years of high school, not after the student has graduated from college and has already set his sights on the future.

Pavement Plato Eyes 1959

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk scrawls of a Pavement Plato:

As a new year dawns in the world after a record American food crop, more and more thoughtful minds turn toward the problem of overpopulation.

From a domestic angle the situation seems to be that we don't have the appetite to eat what we produce.

From an international angle the problem seems partly to be that the food we volunteer doesn't please the peoples' appetite—and they express their discontent by having more and more children.

Both the rich and the poor countries are having the same problem:

No matter what they eat, or don't eat, they produce more children.

The globe is being inundated by a tidal wave of posterity. It is as if people, everywhere, confused by the responsibility of the moment, pass on through their genes the payment of tomorrow.

It is, economically speaking, as if a generation that created inflation in its time also inflated its posterity to water down the individual bill. Who can win in the race to see who has the weakest money and the most poor mouths?

Scientists, like a pack of hounds, bell-tongue in cry after the elusive fox, truth.

They will catch him, too. But not today—tomorrow.

Meanwhile, ordinary people pay the price of ordinary living, chase a smaller fox, stun one another with personal wonder, and live by a personal star they discovered together, the one big star in the sky no lovers ever shared before.

The atomic cloud darkens. The statesmen and diplomats and politicians argue. They frighten each other. They spend more money to build more bombs. The value of the currency is inflated. People brood over their bills and brooding leads to—well, doesn't it?

Nobody is afraid of yesterday, nobody is afraid of tomorrow. Who will shoulder today?

Yule Strikes Against Us All

By George Sokolsky

Not one of the rash of strikes that were deliberately set for the Christmas holidays was justified by any of the circumstances surrounding them. If a strike is against an employer, that is one thing; when strike strategy requires inconveniences to the American people, it is a public nuisance. The strike leaders chose the Christmas period when the public might be most embarrassed by the strikes. They were, in effect, striking against the American people.

The strike of the New York City truckmen, engaged in delivering newspapers, was not even a strike of laborers. This union is a private organization, kept small by its officers, the members of which are well-off middle class persons who have established a monopoly based upon the peculiar geography of New York.

They are, in many instances, better paid than educated, literate men who prepare the material that goes into the newspapers. Their sole task is to drive trucks, throw bundles of newspapers off the trucks at certain specified spots, yell at the newsstand men to come and seize the bundles.

Their work is at best semi-skilled because they drive a truck. They do not possess any other skill. Manners, they have none, and I have often wondered why a citizen does not swear out a warrant for the arrest of these hoarse, yelling, loud-mouthed jokers who appear at a corner with their wares, fling them at passers-by without so much as an excuse me.

These crude people struck to get more pay than reporters, writers, copy-readers, even office boys, the equal of whom they are in nothing. They deprived the newspapers of their revenue during the best advertising season of the year; they deprived outlets during the Christmas holidays. They deprived the public of news at a time when the news of the world was of considerable importance.

I understand that during this strike period, when the pilots of airplanes struck to discount the advantage of progress, the impudent Mr. Hoffa, leader of the Teamsters, pronounced learnedly on the need for organizing the police into labor unions run undoubtedly by such persons as himself who were put out of the A.F.L.-C.I.O. because that body could not stand their racketeering practices.

Perhaps when Hoffa has organized the police of our large cities in racketeer-managed unions, it will be characteristic of the politicians to bring Lucky Luciano back from Italy to be Police Commissioner in New York. In fact, instead of holding an annual session of the FBI Academy, it will then be smart to hold a convention of police chiefs at Apalachin together with the leaders of the Mafia so that brothers in crime might know how to operate with the least inconvenience for the criminal elements. This is the ultimate in a public-be-damned policy.

The house of labor, as John L. Lewis used to call it, had better take a look at itself. This year, it has over-stepped the line of decency and propriety. Labor cannot quite be blamed for the newspaper truckmen's strike, for those are not laborers and that is an unaffiliated group, but there is no reason why honest, decently-oriented labor unions should not have crossed the picket-line when a crowd like this calls a strike, and most of them didn't. If the picket-line is to be a symbol of something sacred, it must be kept clean and never used for foul purposes. This strike was foul.

Certainly, if Jimmy Hoffa organizes the police in his racketeer unions, there can be no picket-line. What should happen then is that martial law should be declared in the area, the troops sent in, the police disarmed and dismissed. For to turn the police control, the police files, the fingerprint files, over to the kind of union that James Hoffa is producing is to risk the destruction of law and order and the reduction of government to anarchy.

If George Meany and Walter Reuther are more than labor job holders, if they possess any capacity for statesmanship, they ought to see the peril of this situation and they should speak out.

Those who fail to speak out against the abomination now will one day face the voters of this country who will look to their homes and their children.

CHECKERS FOR THE BLIND—An idea by Oran C. Wilson, president of a plastics firm in Sandusky, O., is making life a bit brighter for many blind persons. He developed an easy-to-use Braille checker game for the blind. The checkers are round and square-shaped. The squares on the board are indented. Lions International is distributing the games as gifts across the nation. (Central Press)

By BENNETT CERF

HARRY KURNITZ, author of "Once More with Feeling," has devised a plot for a Soviet comedy which he predicts will have all Moscow in stitches: "A Communist novelist writes a book that wins the Nobel Prize, and this time he's allowed to go to Stockholm to receive it. But then he refuses to go home, so the mortified Soviet officials bump off his wife. Then the novelist happily returns to Russia. Turns out that all he wanted was to get rid of his wife."

The All-Southern Turtle Derby was covered by radio recently. The announcer began on a high pitch of excitement, screaming, "They're off and crawling!"

Auto Is Greatest Killer

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

"Forewarned is forearmed" has been said so often.

But perhaps I can help you avoid a serious accident during the next year by letting you know where, when and how most accidents are likely to occur during 1959.

Statistics tell us that some 93,000 persons will be killed accidentally this year. More than two-thirds of them will be men. As a matter of fact, the chances at birth are four in 100 that a male will lose his life in an accident before reaching the age of 65.

Your greatest chance of being accidentally killed, of course, exists while you are in an automobile. The odds are against you are greatest if you are a driver under the age of 25. If you are a woman, your chances of avoiding a fatal accident are much better than if you are a man.

An auto accident is most likely to occur in a country area in clear weather and on dry roads.

If you are a pedestrian, your greatest chance of being struck by an auto lies in jaywalking.

The most accident-prone age is between 15 and 19, then between 20 and 24, between 10 and 14, between 5 and 9 and between 25 and 29.

Next to a motor vehicle, the most dangerous places, according to their fatal accident rate, are the home, at work and, finally, in public places.

You are most apt to be injured or killed around the home in a fall. Next in order of importance are fires, suffocation and poisoning.

You are most likely to have an accident around the home between 3 and 5 p. m. and between 8 and 11 p. m.

The most dangerous time for you on the job is at 10 a. m. and, again, at 3 p. m. if you are on the day shift, and during the first few hours of work if you are on the night shift.

Question and Answer
J.W.: My head aches on top of my head and I have dizziness. I had a blood test and it was normal.

The oldest part of New York City's Manhattan Island, where the Dutch first settled, now has a value of $15 million dollars an acre. Roughly, that is the neighborhood where Wall Street and shipping circles are located.

What is the cause of this? Answer Your headaches and dizziness may be due to a number of conditions.

High blood pressure, sinus disease, abscessed teeth and arteriosclerosis are all possible causes. A complete medical examination is indicated in cases such as yours.

Dear Sir:
"I want to take this way in expressing my thanks, for the happiness they made my children, at Christmas time."

"My husband had to quit work due to illness, and when he stopped our income stopped also, and I worried myself to the point of sickness to have a Christmas for the children doing it on not one dime. There were nights when I stayed up wondering what to do."

Someone, the Jaycees and their wives knew of us and held out a helping hand, and the Variety Sewing Club and different individuals brought us groceries and things for the children.

But I do want to thank the Jaycees and their wives, for their part. I myself thank them, for yesterday my mind was at rest and I slept in peace. I also want to thank the Rev. and Mrs. Rough and the W.S.W.S. of the Calvary Church.

My greatest disappointment was the plant where my husband had given his time, never came around to say Hello.

But my thought goes out to the organizations of Circleville for their helping hand.

I want to close in wishing each and every one of them a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cline and Family.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rash of 1958's year-end strikes overshadowed the fact that the overwhelming majority of labor-management negotiations last year ended peacefully.

But those strikes which immediately and directly affect the public, such as those against airlines and New York newspapers, raise questions.

Can the public be protected against a repetition? Can such strikes be banned? What will Congress do?

No federal law forbids such strikes. Congress rejected the principle of a strike ban when it fashioned the Taft-Hartley Act in 1947. It's unlikely to change its mind in 1959 as a result of what happened in 1958.

Public inconvenience — last year only small segments of the public were affected — has to be balanced against the freedom of workers to strike and of employers to shut their plants and freedom for both to settle their own problems.

A change in congressional thinking would appear more probable if the time came when a strike damaged the nation as a whole so badly that it seemed necessary to prevent a repetition in order to avoid disaster.

Even then Congress almost certainly would not forbid strikes generally but aim, instead, at key industries broadly affecting the public. Likely targets: such public utilities as railroads, airlines, telephones, buses, electric power.

But how could there be a fair settlement in those fields if labor, to enforce its demands, could not strike and management, to put pressure on a union, could not shut down its plant?

To try to be fair to both sides, Congress probably would require compulsory arbitration. An outsider would be appointed to listen to both sides and then give a decision binding on both.

Organized labor as a whole, treasuring its freedom to strike for what it demands, is against compulsory arbitration which could force it to accept what it did not want. Management probably would oppose compulsory arbitration, too.

Congress itself turned down the idea of compulsory arbitration when it was passing the Taft-Hartley Act. So did one of the law's authors, the late Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio.

There are two major labor laws: the Railway Labor Act, covering railroads and airlines; and Taft-Hartley, covering most other interstate business and industry.

The Railway Act does not forbid a strike but has built-in machinery for delaying one while efforts are made to get a settlement. It's the same with Taft-Hartley.

Under T-H when the President thinks a walk-out might damage the national welfare, he can prevent a strike for 80 days. But under both acts, when all tries at a settlement fail, the strike can start.

At year's end no one seemed more pleased at the way labor and management got along in 1958 than Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

His department put out a statement this week which said in 1958 was one of the best years on record. The number of man-days lost through strike idleness was lower than any postwar year except 1957.

Mitchell praised what he called the "statesmanship" and maturity of labor and management for their record in collective bargaining in 1958.

A number of states have laws whose purpose is to prevent or forbid strikes in public utilities. But the constitutionality of these laws has been questionable ever since 1951.

That year the Supreme Court knocked down a Wisconsin law aimed at preventing a public utility strike. What the court said in effect was that the Taft-Hartley Act does not forbid such a strike; therefore, the Wisconsin law was in conflict with federal law and could not stand.

Every year since 1951 proposals have been made in Congress to ban strikes in public utilities. They got nowhere. They will be offered again this year and appear likely to face the same fate.

Bender Donates 'Fee' to Charity

WASHINGTON (AP) — George H. Bender says churches, hospitals, schools and charitable institutions will get about $15,000 he received for investigating the racket-ridden Teamsters Union.

The former Ohio Republican senator says the rest of the $25,250 he has been paid by the Teamsters as chairman of the Union's anti-racketeering commission will be used to pay income taxes on the entire amount.

Senate investigators have denounced Bender's job as a whitewash attempt by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa. They have said Bender's pay was a waste of union funds. The racket committee has said Bender reported he found no corruption in the big union.

New Brooklyn Bridge Assured

NEW YORK (AP)—After years of wrangling, New York is all set now to construct a huge new bridge linking Brooklyn and Staten Island. It will tower above the Narrows, where the big ocean liners enter the harbor.

The structure will be 2½ miles long and will have the world's longest center suspension span—4,260 feet. Ninety per cent of the 320-million-dollar cost will be borne by the federal government. Argument over approaches and alternate plans have held up the action since early 1955 on the 12-lane, double-deck bridge.

Newspapers Fail To Sell Selves

Newspapers have done a poor job of press agency in selling themselves as potential employers of the students of the land, according to a survey made by the Dow Jones & Co. publishing firm. As a result, few college graduates show interest in the career of a newspaperman.

It is not that newspapers cannot offer the inducement to which the students have become accustomed. To the contrary, the survey taken by Prof. Alvin E. Austin, head of North Dakota University's journalism department, indicates members of reporting and editing departments are earning more money than at any time in history. The average daily newspaper from which Professor Austin received replies to his inquiries now pays $73 a week for beginning reporters, with a few offerings as much as $100 for novices.

As a part of his year-long research project on newspaper staff recruitment problems, Professor Austin made a survey of 135 large and small daily newspapers and found more than 67 per cent considered shortage of new manpower among their most pressing problems. Many newspapers have initiated training programs to fill their ranks.

Much of the reason for lack of interest in newspaper work among students, according to Professor Austin, is an almost total void of interesting and up-to-date vocational guidance material on newspaper opportunities in school libraries. As an example, he cited a typical library in New Hampshire which contained books on the newspaper business printed in 1912, 1913, 1915 and 1919. The latest was published in 1940.

It is incongruous that lack of the printed word is causing a declining interest among the coming generations in the Fourth Estate. Newspapers have a continuing need for well educated minds to cope with the unwrapping world of technology. The time to influence young people into newspaper careers is during the formative years of high school, not after the student has graduated from college and has already set his sights on the future.

Pavement Plato Eyes 1959

NEW YORK (AP) — Sidewalk scrawls of a Pavement Plato:

As a new year dawns in the world after a record American food crop, more and more thoughtful minds turn toward the problem of overpopulation.

From a domestic angle the situation seems to be that we don't have the appetite to eat what we produce.

From an international angle the problem seems partly to be that the food we volunteer doesn't please the peoples' appetite—and they express their discontent by having more and more children.

Both the rich and the poor countries are having the same problem: No matter what they eat, or don't eat, they produce more children.

The globe is being inundated by a tidal wave of posterity. It is as if people, everywhere, confused by the responsibility of the moment, pass on through their genes the payment of tomorrow.

It is, economically speaking, as if a generation that created inflation in its time also inflated its posterity to water down the individual bill. Who can win in the race to see who has the weakest money and the most poor mouths?

Scientists, like a pack of hounds, bell-tongue in cry after the elusive fox, truth.

They will catch him, too. But not today—tomorrow.

Meanwhile, ordinary people pay the price of ordinary living, chase a smaller fox, stun one another with personal wonder, and live by a personal star they discovered together, the one big star in the sky no lovers ever shared before. The atomic cloud darkens. The statesmen and diplomats and politicians argue. They frighten each other. They spend more money to build more bombs. The value of the currency is inflated. People brood over their bills and brooding leads to—well, doesn't it?

Nobody is afraid of yesterday, nobody is afraid of tomorrow. Who will shoulder today?

Yule Strikes Against Us All

Not one of the rash of strikes that were deliberately set for the Christmas holidays was justified by any of the circumstances surrounding them. If a strike is against an employer, that is one thing; when strike strategy requires inconveniences to the American people, it is a public nuisance. The strike leaders chose the Christmas period when the public might be most embarrassed by the strikes. They were, in effect, striking against the American people.

The strike of the New York City truckmen, engaged in delivering newspapers, was not even a strike of laborers. This union is a private organization, kept small by its officers, the members of which are well-off middle class persons who have established a monopoly based upon the peculiar geography of New York.

They are, in many instances, better paid than educated, literate men who prepare the material that goes into the newspapers. Their sole task is to drive trucks, throw bundles of newspapers off the trucks at certain specified spots, yell at the newsstand men to come and seize the bundles.

Their work is at best semi-skilled because they drive a truck. They do not possess any other skill. Manners, they have none, and I have often wondered why a citizen does not swear out a warrant for the arrest of these hoarse, yelling, loud-mouthed jokers who appear at a corner with their wares, fling them at passers-by without so much as an excuse me.

These crude people struck to get more pay than reporters, writers, copy-readers, even office boys, the equal of whom they are in nothing. They deprived the newspapers of their revenue during the best advertising season of the year; they deprived merchandisers of advertising outlets during the Christmas holidays. They deprived the public of news at a time when the news of the world was of considerable importance.

I understand that during this strike period, when the pilots of airplanes struck to discount the advantage of progress, the impudent Mr. Hoffa, leader of the Teamsters, pronounced learnedly on the need for organizing the police into labor unions run undoubtedly by such persons as himself who were put out of the A.F.L.-C.I.O. because that body could not stand their racketeering practices.

Perhaps when Hoffa has organized the police of our large cities in racketeer-managed unions, it will be characteristic of the politicians to bring Lucky Luciano back from Italy to be Police Commissioner in New York. In fact, instead of holding an annual session of the FBI Academy, it will then be smart to hold a convention of police chiefs at Apalachin together with the leaders of the Mafia so that brothers in crime might know how to operate with the least inconvenience for the criminal elements. This is the ultimate in a public-b damned policy.

The house of labor, as John L. Lewis used to call it, had better take a look at itself. This year, it has over-stepped the line of decency and propriety. Labor cannot quite be blamed for the newspaper truckmen's strike, for those are not laborers and that is an unaffiliated group, but there is no reason why honest, decently-oriented labor unions should not have crossed the picket-line when a crowd like this calls a strike, and most of them didn't. If the picket-line is to be a symbol of something sacred, it must be kept clean and never used for foul purposes. This strike was foul.

Certainly, if Jimmy Hoffa organizes the police in his racketeer unions, there can be no picket-line. What should happen then is that martial law should be declared in the area, the troops sent in, the police disarmed and dismissed. For to turn the police control, the police files, the fingerprint files, over to the kind of union that James Hoffa is producing is to risk the destruction of law and order and the reduction of government to anarchy.

If George Meany and Walter Reuther are more than labor job holders, if they possess any capacity for statesmanship, they ought to see the peril of this situation and they should speak out.

Those who fail to speak out against the abomination now will one day face the voters of this country who will look to their homes and their children.

Auto Is Greatest Killer

By Herman N. Bundesen, M.D.

"Forewarned is forearmed" has been said so often.

But perhaps I can help you avoid a serious accident during the next year by letting you know where, when and how most accidents are likely to occur during 1959.

Statistics tell us that some 93,000 persons will be killed accidentally this year. More than two-thirds of them will be men. As a matter of fact, the chances at birth are four in 100 that a male will lose his life in an accident before reaching the age of 65.

Your greatest chance of being accidentally killed, of course, exists while you are in an automobile. The odds are against you are greatest if you are a driver under the age of 25. If you are a woman, your chances of avoiding a fatal accident are much better than if you are a man.

An auto accident is most likely to occur in a country area in clear weather and on dry roads.

If you are a pedestrian, your greatest chance of being struck by an auto lies in jaywalking.

The most accident-prone age is between 15 and 19, then between 20 and 24, between 10 and 14, between 5 and 9 and between 25 and 29.

Next to a motor vehicle, the most dangerous places, according to their fatal accident rate, are the home, at work and, finally, in public places.

You are most apt to be injured or killed around the home in a fall. Next in order of importance are fires, suffocation and poisoning.

You are most likely to have an accident around the home between 3 and 5 p. m. and between 8 and 11 p. m.

The most dangerous time for you on the job is at 10 a. m. and, again, at 3 p. m. if you are on the day shift, and during the first few hours of work if you are on the night shift.

Question and Answer

J.W.: My head aches on top of my head and I have dizziness. I had a blood test and it was normal.

The oldest part of New York City's Manhattan Island, where the Dutch first settled, now has a value of $15 million dollars an acre. Roughly, that is the neighborhood where Wall Street and shipping circles are located.

What is the cause of this?

Answer Your headaches and dizziness may be due to a number of conditions.

High blood pressure, sinus disease, abscessed teeth and arteriosclerosis are all possible causes. A complete medical examination is indicated in cases such as yours.

Letter To The Editor

EDITOR'S NOTE: The Herald welcomes expressions of opinions from its readers on subjects of general interest through letters to the editor. We insist that all letters must be signed with the name and address of the writer. However, the name will not be used in publication of the letter if the writer requests. A pen name or initials will be substituted. We will not use anonymous letters. We believe that a letter to the editor column can serve as a public forum. The editor reserves the right to shorten over-long letters and to reject letters which contain personal attacks on individuals. The column will not be open to religious controversy of any kind.

Dear Sir:

"I want to take this way in expressing my thanks, for the happiness they made my children, at Christmas time."

"My husband had to quit work due to illness, and when he stopped our income stopped also, and I worried myself to the point of sickness to have a Christmas for the children doing it on not one dime. There were nights when I stayed up wondering what to do."

Someone, the Jaycees and their wives knew of us and held out a helping hand, and the Variety Sewing Club and different individuals brought us groceries and things for the children.

But I do want to thank the Jaycees and their wives, for their part. I myself thank them, for yesterday my mind was at rest and I slept in peace. I also want to thank the Rev. and Mrs. Rough and the W.S.W.S. of the Calvary Church.

My greatest disappointment was the plant where my husband had given his time, never came around to say Hello.

But my thought goes out to the organizations of Circleville for their helping hand.

I want to close in wishing each and every one of them a Very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Cline and Family.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP) — The rash of 1958's year-end strikes overshadowed the fact that the overwhelming majority of labor-management negotiations last year ended peacefully.

But those strikes which immediately and directly affect the public, such as those against airlines and New York newspapers, raise questions.

Can the public be protected against a repetition? Can such strikes be banned? What will Congress do?

No federal law forbids such strikes. Congress rejected the principle of a strike ban when it fashioned the Taft-Hartley Act in 1947. It's unlikely to change its mind in 1959 as a result of what happened in 1958.

Public inconvenience — last year only small segments of the public were affected — has to be balanced against the freedom of workers to strike and of employers to shut their plants and freedom for both to settle their own problems.

A change in congressional thinking would appear more probable if the time came when a strike damaged the nation as a whole so badly that it seemed necessary to prevent a repetition in order to avoid disaster.

Even then Congress almost certainly would not forbid strikes generally but aim, instead, at key industries broadly affecting the public. Likely targets: such public utilities as railroads, airlines, telephones, buses, electric power. But how could there be a fair settlement in those fields if labor, to enforce its demands, could not strike and management, to put pressure on a union, could not shut down its plant?

To try to be fair to both sides, Congress probably would require compulsory arbitration. An outsider would be appointed to listen to both sides and then give a decision binding on both.

Organized labor as a whole, treasuring its freedom to strike for what it demands, is against compulsory arbitration which could force it to accept what it did not want. Management probably would oppose compulsory arbitration, too.

Congress itself turned down the idea of compulsory arbitration when it was passing the Taft-Hartley Act. So did one of the law's authors, the late Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio.

There are two major labor laws: the Railway Labor Act, covering railroads and airlines; and Taft-Hartley, covering most other interstate business and industry.

The Railway Act does not forbid a strike but has built-in machinery for delaying one while efforts are made to get a settlement. It's the same with Taft-Hartley.

Under T.H. when the President thinks a walk-out might damage the national welfare, he can prevent a strike for 60 days. But under both acts, when all tries at a settlement fail, the strike can start.

At year's end no one seemed more pleased at the way labor and management got along in 1958 than Secretary of Labor Mitchell.

His department put out a statement this week which said in 1958 was one of the best years on record. The number of man-days lost through strike idleness was lower than any postwar year except 1957.

Mitchell praised what he called the "statesmanship" and maturity of labor and management "for their record in collective bargaining in 1958."

A number of states have laws whose purpose is to prevent or forbid strikes in public utilities. But the constitutionality of these laws has been questionable ever since 1951.

That year the Supreme Court knocked down a Wisconsin law aimed at preventing a public utility strike. What the court said in effect was that the Taft-Hartley Act does not forbid such a strike; therefore, the Wisconsin law was in conflict with federal law and could not stand.

Every year since 1951 proposals have been made in Congress to ban strikes in public utilities. They got nowhere. They will be offered again this year and appear likely to face the same fate.

Bender Donates 'Fee' to Charity

WASHINGTON (AP) — George H. Bender says churches, hospitals, schools and charitable institutions will get about $15,000 he received for investigating the racket-ridden Teamsters Union.

The former Ohio Republican senator says the rest of the $29,250 he has been paid by the Teamsters as chairman of the Union's antiracketeering commission will be used to pay income taxes on the entire amount.

Senate investigators have denounced Bender's job as a whitewash attempt by Teamsters President James R. Hoffa. They have said Bender's pay was a waste of union funds. The racket committee has said Bender reported he found no corruption in the big union.

New Brooklyn Bridge Assured

NEW YORK (AP)—After years of wrangling, New York is all set now to construct a huge new bridge linking Brooklyn and Staten Island. It will tower above the Narrows, where the big ocean liners enter the harbor.

The structure will be 2½ miles long and will have the world's longest center suspension span—4,260 feet. Ninety per cent of the 320-million-dollar cost will be borne by the federal government.

Argument over approaches and alternate plans have held up action since early 1955 on the 12-lane, double-deck bridge.

Jesus Calls Forth Faith

TO THE BELIEVER
CHRIST SAYS ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE

Scripture—Mark 9:2-29; Matthew 17:14-18.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL

FAITH is the subject of today's lesson. Today, in a world shaken by fear and uncertainty of both present and future, we need faith in God and in our fellow men and women of every country, in their truth and fidelity, to keep us from worrying too much. Faith, the dictionary tells us, is belief, trust and loyalty.

In our lesson we learn of Christ's faith and what He said about it. It should help all of us, from the primary grades of the class to the older ones, to "realize that Jesus had a loving concern for all who were sick or in need." The teachers can illustrate this in events taking place every day by Jesus' followers who are helping to meet the needs of the handicapped—nurses, doctors, institutions, special classes, etc. I have quoted these lines from The Uniform Series of Lessons, which suggests that "Children may be helped to develop a sympathetic
understanding of the handicapped

but they had failed. The boy, he said, had been so tortured since he was a child.

The youth was lying prostrate on the ground, unconscious, and many thought he was dead. Jesus said to the father, "If thou canst believe, all things are possible."— Mark 9:23. "The father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help Thou
my unbelief."—Mark 9:24.

Christ cast out the evil spirit from the youth, "took him by the hand and lifted him up; and he arose."—Mark 9:25-27.

Surely the father's unbelief must have been weakened or entirely overcome by this miracle.

Later, when Jesus and His disciples were gathered in a house, the disciples asked Him
why they had not been able to subdue the evil spirit. He answered them: "This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting."—Mark 9:28-29.

Christ had given the disciples

MEMORY VERSE

"All things are possible to him that believeth."—Mark 9:23.

and to seek ways of giving practical help."

Briefly we mention Christ's transfiguration on the top of a high mountain to which He had taken Peter, James and John.
"And His raiment became shining, exceeding white as snow. . .
And there appeared unto them
Elias with Moses. . . talking with Jesus. . . And there was a cloud that overshadowed them;
and a voice came out of the cloud, saying, This is My beloved Son;
hear Him."—Mark 9:2-7.

When they came down from the mountain, they found a great multitude about them whom the scribes were questioning. Then a man from the crowd said: "Master, I have brought Thee my son, which hath a dumb spirit; and wherever he taketh him, he teareth him; and he foameth, and gnasheth with his teeth, and pineth away."—Mark 9:14-18.
The man also said that he had begged the disciples to cure him, they may not have had the faith in themselves and Him to accomplish the healing.

St. Matthew, in chapter 17:14-
18, tells the same story, when Jesus said to the disciples that they could not cast out the evil spirit "Because of your unbelief; for verily I say unto you, If ye have faith as a grain of mustard seed, ye shall say unto this mountain, Remove hence to yonder place; and it shall remove, and nothing shall be impossible unto you."—Matthew 17:19-20.

We do not have Christ's power of healing, but many seeming miracles are taking place today in healing. Also, men and women who have criminal tendencies are turning into virtuous citizens with the help of those who have His faith and work through agencies to help those who are handicapped physically or mentally. Let us, too, cultivate faith, overcome our doubts and fears, and work actively to follow in Christ's steps.

Jesus Calls Forth Faith

TO THE BELIEVER
CHRIST SAYS ALL THINGS ARE POSSIBLE

Scripture—Mark 9:2-23; Matthew 17:14-18.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
FAITH is the subject of today's lesson. Today, in a world shaken
by fear and uncertainty of both
present and future, we need faith
in God and in our fellow men and women of every country, in their truth and fidelity, to keep us from worrying too much. Faith, the dictionary tells us, is belief, trust
and loyalty.

In our lesson we learn of Christ's faith and what He said
about it. It should help all of us, from the primary grades of the class to the older ones, to "realize that Jesus had a loving concern for all who were sick or in need." The teachers can illustrate this in events taking place every day by Jesus' followers who are helping to meet the needs of the handicapped—nurses, doctors, institutions, special classes, etc. I have quoted these lines from The
Uniform Series of Lessons, which suggests that "Children may be helped to develop a sympathetic
understanding of the handicapped

but they had failed. The boy, he said, had been so tortured since
he was a child.

The youth was lying prostrate
on the ground, unconscious, and many thought he was dead. Jesus said to the father, "If thou canst
believe, all things are possible."
Mark 9:23. "The father of the child cried out, and said with tears, Lord, I believe; help Thou
my unbelief."—Mark 9:24.

Christ cast out the evil spirit
from the youth, "took him by the hand and lifted him up; and he arose."—Mark 9:25-27.

Surely the father's unbelief
must have been weakened or entirely overcome by this miracle.

Later, when Jesus and His disciples were gathered in a house, the disciples asked Him
why they had not been able to subdue the evil spirit. He answered them: "This kind can come forth by nothing, but by prayer and fasting."—Mark 9:28-29.

Christ had given the disciples
the power to heal, but in this case,

The man also said that he had

St. Matthew, in chapter 17:14-

Miss Jennie Gordon Bride Of Mr. David Hedges Dec. 27

Before an altar decorated with white gladiolas, Miss Jennie Gordon became the bride of Mr. David Howard Hedges at 7:30 p. m. Saturday, December 27th, in the St. Paul Lutheran Church, Ashville. Christmas greens, poinsettias and palms decorated the church.

Miss Gordon is the daughter of Mrs. Gertrude Gordon, Route 2, Ashville and the late Mr. Peter Gordon VI, formerly of Hamilton, Ontario, Canada. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Warner Hedges, Ashville.

The Rev. Tegmeier performed the double ring ceremony.

Prenuptial music was presented by Mrs. Charles McCray, organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Mr. Gordon Donahue, Dundas, Ontario, Canada, wore a white satin ballerina gown designed along classic lines with a bouffant skirt. The white satin bodice was covered with chantilly lace which formed long sleeves coming to points over her hands.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was edged with chantilly lace, caught to a pearl studded head band. She carried a crescent shaped bridal bouquet of shattered white carnations.

Mrs. John Woodruff, Ashville, was the matron of honor. She wore a turquoise blue net over taffeta ballerina length gown and carried a bouquet featuring golden fuchsia mums.

Mr. William Henry Barr, Champagne, Ill., served as best man. Relatives and guests were seated by Mrs. Charles Crites, Culver Military Academy, Culver, Ind., and Mr. Edward Crites, Ashville.

Mrs. Gordon chose for her daughter's wedding, a navy chiton dress with accessories to match. A corsage of pink roses was pinned to her shoulder. The bridegroom's mother wore a wedgewood blue printed faille dress and her corsage was of shattered pink carnations.

A reception was held following the ceremony at the country home of Mrs. H. M. Crites, Route 2, Ashville, a cousin of the bride.

The bridal table was covered with a madeira and lace table cloth and lighted by tiered silver candelabra and was centered with two wedding cakes, one being the traditional three tiered fruit cake of Canada, baked by the bride's mother.

Hostesses were Mrs. Wilson Martin, sister of the groom, Route 3, Miss Florence Brown, Ashville, an aunt of the groom, Miss Mary Virginia Crites, 139 W. Franklin St. and Miss Doris Cook, South Bloomfield.

For a wedding trip to Hamilton, Ontario, Canada, the new Mrs. Hedges changed to a two-piece brown wool suit with matching accessories.

The bride is a graduate of Walnut Twp. High School and served two years with the 7th Division as Combat Medical Aide-man with duty in Korea.

The couple will reside on Mr. Hedges' farm near Ashville.

Her fingertip veil of illusion was edged with chantilly lace, caught to a pearl studded head band. She carried a crescent shaped bridal bouquet of shattered white carnations.

Still a Baby at Heart

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter married without our consent but because we loved her we accepted this boy with an open heart. He is selfish, inconsiderate and stubborn. Two months after their marriage she became pregnant. She is expecting in May. Our son-in-law came to us yesterday and told us they decided to give the child up for adoption. He said he didn't want the responsibility of a baby as he is too young (he's 19) and he wants our daughter to continue working and a baby would be in the way. We pleaded with him but got nowhere. My daughter wants the baby but her husband says if she keeps it he will leave her. (We'd gladly take her and the baby.) She doesn't know which way to turn. Please advise her through me to make a wise decision.

JUST MOM

DEAR MOM: My son-in-law wants none of the responsibility of marriage. He bought himself a bed-partner for the price of the marriage license. Tell your daughter to keep her baby and if her "husband" leaves, he leaves. A legal separation with provisions for the baby's support might be just what the boy needs to help him grow up.

DEAR ABBY: What do you think of a 16-year-old boy who takes out an 18-year-old and gives her instructions not to order anything on the menu that costs over seventy cents? Then for a tip he puts down twenty pennies? I have never been so humiliated in all my life.

ANGIE

DEAR ANGIE: When you play with Little Leaguers you have to go by their rules.

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I invite a few couples in for a social evening, my husband always starts the conversation with, "How's business?" The men start talking about business and we women either sit there like dummies or we have to start our own conversation about clothes or children. I want everybody to have a good time, but no matter how many times I try to change the conversation to include the women, they always end up talking about business. Is there a solution for this?

SICK OF BUSINESS

DEAR SICK: Some men aren't able to discuss a thing other than "business." If your object in entertaining is to provide a pleasant evening, don't try too hard to channel the conversation.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for nine years and with the exception of this one complaint we have been very happy. My husband introduced me to a married couple who seemed nice. Then he confided that before he met me, he had a romantic affair with this woman while her husband was overseas. He expects me to be nice to this woman, but I have all I can do to be civil to her. He says it's all over between them now and I should forget it. Do you think I should try to be friendly with her or is my husband asking too much? CANT FORGET

CONFIDENTIAL TO EXHAUSTED: Your child is spoiled because you can't spank two grandmothers.

DEAR ABBY: Whenever I invite a few couples in for a social evening, my husband always starts the conversation with, "How's business?" The men start talking about business and we women either sit there like dummies or we have to start our own conversation about clothes or children. I want everybody to have a good time, but no matter how many times I try to change the conversation to include the women, they always end up talking about business. Is there a solution for this?

SICK OF BUSINESS
DEAR SICK: Some men aren't able to discuss a thing other than "business." If your object in entertaining is to provide a pleasant evening, don't try too hard to channel the conversation.

DEAR ABBY: I've been married for nine years and with the exception of this one complaint we have been very happy. My husband introduced me to a married couple who seemed nice. Then he confided that before he met me, he had a romantic affair with this woman while her husband was overseas. He expects me to be nice to this woman, but I have all I can do to be civil to her. He says it's all over between them now and I should forget it. Do you think I should try to be friendly with her or is my husband asking too much? CAN'T FORGET

DEAR CAN'T: Skip this couple and go around with people who are "new" to both of you. Your husband is definitely asking too much (P.S. Give my regards to "Big Mouth.")

CONFIDENTIAL TO EXHAUSTED: Your child is spoiled because you can't spank two grandmothers.

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

College Cagers Now Eye Play In Conferences

Holiday Tournament
Action Ends; Teams
Now Vie for Titles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
College basketball powers set their sights today on conference warfare following the greatest outburst of Christmas week tournament activity in the history of the game.

The hectic week of tournament jousting involved most of the leading top ten teams and rang up merry tunes on the cash registers. It also served to point up again the talent riches of the Atlantic Coast Conference, especially of North Carolina State, Dixie Classic champions, and North Carolina.

Most of the major tournament and non-tourney holiday action ended Wednesday to permit the short-pants set to celebrate the New Year in civvies.

But there was some firing on the courts Thursday, including a couple of tourneys in the East.

Bowdoin, beaten in its first eight starts, surprised Rutgers, 67-63, in the first round of the Downeast Classic, at Bangor, Maine. Bob Gorra's basket in the last two seconds put Bowdoin against Colby in the semifinals tonight. Colby beat Tufts, 64-55. The other semifinal matches St. Michael's, Vt. and Wesleyan.

Williams and Massachusetts moved into tonight's semifinals of the Springfield, Mass. College Invitational tournament. Williams avenged its only defeat of the season by trouncing Harvard, 83-67, and Massachusetts downed winless Amherst International, 59-51. Springfield and Amherst, first round winners Wednesday, play in the other semifinal.

In non-tourney intersectional contests, Butler came from behind a nine point deficit in the first half to nose out Navy, 59-58 at Indianapolis, and Ohio State raced away from crippled Brigham Young in the last 10 minutes, for a 100-81 victory at Columbus, O., despite sophomore Bob Skousen's 39 point spree for the losing Cougars.

N. C. State's victory in its own Dixie Classic—which had four of the nation's top ten teams in the field—was most impressive.

The Wolfpack, on the prowl for the national title, whipped seventh-ranked, previously undefeated Michigan State, 70-61, in the championship contest. To get that far, the fifth-ranked Wolfpack edged Louisville in overtime, 67-61, then toppled Cincinnati's second-ranked Bearcats from the unbeaten ranks, 69-60.

Fourth-ranked North Carolina, which had been beaten by Michigan State, 75-58 in the semifinals, bounced back to nip Cincinnati for third place, 90-88.

To make it all the more delectable for ACC fans, Duke beat Louisville for fifth place, 57-54, and Wake Forest wallowed Yale 85-76 for seventh.

Undefeated St. Francis of Lo-rette, Pa., and Louisiana Tech, copped the other major trounaments decided Wednesday night.

St. Francis surged back after blowing a 20-point lead with 16 minutes left to conquer Fordham, 74-71 for the Carrousel title at Charlotte, N. C.

Louisiana Tech subdued Virginia Tech, 71-66, in the overtime finale of the Gulf South Classic at Shreveport, La.

In major games outside of the tournaments on New Year's Eve, Northwestern's sixth-ranked Wildcats equalled its fieldhouse scoring record in trouncing Notre Dame 102-67 and St. Louis, ranked 16th, drubbed San Francisco 60-42.

LSU's Grid Title Questioned after Iowa's Big Romp

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Louisiana State the national football champion probably will get a strong argument over the honor from second place Iowa today in the wake of the Sugar and Rose Bowl games.

Both teams were heavily favored—LSU by 15 points over Clemson in the Sugar Bowl and Iowa by 18 over California, in the Rose Bowl. Only Iowa proved the oddsmakers correct.

The Hawkeyes scored in every period to overwhelm California, the Pacific Coast Conference king, 38-12. LSU had to call on Coach Paul Dietzel to call the play that defeated Clemson 7-0.

Oklahoma did as expected and defeated dogged Syracuse 21-6 in the Orange Bowl. Air Force pulled a mild upset in playing Southwest Conference champion Texas Christian to a 0-0 tie in a battle of fumbles and mistakes in the Cotton Bowl. Prairie View A&M wallopped Langston 34-8 in the Prairie View Bowl.

Iowa was runnerup to the Bayou Bengals in the final Associated Press poll that settled the national championship. But the Big Ten champs were not expected to have as easy a time as they did against an outwitted, outmaneuvered Cal team.

On the other hand, LSU, with its White, Go and Chinese Bands, its three-team varsity specialists, was expected to have some trouble from a hefty Clemson line, but by sheer weight of numbers, were supposed to have things their way in the end.

The Clemson line didn't weaken. A broken right hand by LSU quarterback Warren Rabb on the third play of the game put him out for the second half. These two factors weighed heavily in forcing Dietzel to revamp his offensive

Denny Moyer Due For Debut on TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Fight fans start the New Year with a look at something brand new in Denny Moyer, a 19-year-old welterweight from Portland, Ore. who has won all of his 18 pro fights.

Young Moyer, of French-Irish parentage, appears before a network (NBC) television camera for the first time tonight when he boxes sadfaced Gaspar Ortega of Mexico, in Madison Square Garden. The 10-round match also will be carried on NBC radio, starting at 10 p.m., (EST).

It may be that Moyer, a former AAU champ, will open and close in one. On the other hand, it may be the first of many appearances in the big arenas.

Nats Drop 7th Contest in Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

There's no middle ground for the Syracuse Nationals in the National Basketball Assn. They're either mighty good or terrible.

In the league's only game Thursday night, the Nats dropped their seventh straight game as rookie Elgin Baylor tapped in a goal for the Lakers with 20 seconds remaining for a 106-195 Minneapolis victory. Before starting their losing string, the Nationals had won seven in-a-row and before that they had lost eight straight.

The defeat placed the Nats only a half-game ahead of Philadelphia's cellar dwelling Warriors in the Eastern Division.

The wisp of hope came in the third period when Clemson center Paul Snyder got a firmer grip on some turf than on the ball on a snap-back to punter Bill Mathis. The ball sailed wildly and bounced off the knee of blocker Doug Cline. It was recovered by LSU tackle Duane Leopard on the Clemson 11.

Two plays gained only one yard and on third down All America halfback Billy Cannon, the game's most valuable player, started wide, spotted end Mickey Mangham and hit him with a pass for the score. Cannon kicked the extra point.

Dietzel admitted afterward that he called the scoring play "because Clemson was putting so much pressure on our quarterbacks when they went back to pass that I figured a halfback run-pass option would take more time." Rabb whose injury was not disclosed until halftime explained that his passing was handicapped by his wide-open offense for a ground game. He hit only two of seven passes.

Iowa never had a worry in the Rose Bowl, although they fumbled at the start. Led by Bob (Jet) Jeter, the Hawkeyes, winning their second Rose Bowl, rolled up 516 yards overall, 25 more than former recordholder Michigan in 1948 against Southern Cal.

Jeter ran 81 yards for one score, breaking Northwestern's Frank Aschenbrenner's record of 71 against Cal in 1949. He also gained 194 yards overall, 43 more than Bobby Grayson of Stanford against Columbia in 1934, the previous record.

Iowa scored the second time it had the ball, and managed at least one TD per quarter against a Cal line outweighed an average of 18 pounds per man.

Coach Forest Evashevski's winning formula: "Our basic plan was to run inside and off tackle. We figured they were weak there."

Said Cal Coach Pete Elliott: We knew it was coming, but it's hard to block a freight train.

Jack Hart scored both Cal TDs, one on a yard plunge, the other on a 17-yard pass from quarterback Joe Kapp.

Oklahoma used its blinding speed to build up a 14-0 first period lead, added another score in the third and then got pushed around for the rest of the game by a Syracuse line that didn't melt in the 78 degree heat.

Fullback Prentice Gautt raced 42 yards on the second play of the game for the first Sooner score. Brewster Hobby combined with end Russ Coyle for a 79-yard pass play for the second TD — a new Orange Bowl record for distance, and Hobby took a punt 40 yards for the third score.

Mike Weber's 15-yard plunge in the final quarter got Syracuse, which won the battle of statistics, its TD.

There were 13 fumbles by Texas Christian and Air Force, each team losing three. TCU pushed deep into Air Force territory twice in the final minutes, but fumbles lost both opportunities. Air Force had two similar chances in the first half, and one in the second but couldn't cash in.

The Air Force's George Pupich missed three field goal tries and TCU's Jack Spikes two. Spikes was the game's leading back with 108 yards on 17 carries.

Prairie View scored four second half touchdowns to overcome an 8-6 halftime deficit. Halfback Archie Seals and fullback Jimmy Tolleston paced the winners, the national Negro collegiate champs.

The four major games were on national television and a total live audience of 331,082 sat in on 1959's first taste of college football. The largest turnout was 98,297 at the Rose, followed by the 82,060 at the Sugar, 75,504 at the Cotton and 75,281 at the Orange.

Number of Hunters in 1958 Declines, Ohio Agency Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Wildlife Division's books on the deer hunting season in Ohio thus far show the number of hunters is 20 per cent less than a year ago.

The number of deer bagged is down only 14 per cent. Out of 10,344 hunters reporting, 2,473 shot deer. At this time last year, 13,057 reported and 2,847 bagged a deer.

Division spokesmen said hunters do not have to mail deer report cards until Jan. 3. When all cards were in last year more than 48,000 hunters reported and 5,000 of them said they got a deer.

The gun season for deer was Dec. 10-13.

The Wildlife Division has plans for building three new fishing lakes in 1959. Hayden Olds, division chief, said the areas are 48-acre Shreve Lake in Wayne County, 100-acre Tycoon Lake in Gallia County, and 70-acre Spencer Lake in Medina County. Cost of building the lakes has been estimated at $194,000.

Construction of the new lakes is expected to begin before June and work will be finished in 1959.

"Ohio has no need to ration Canada geese," says William Hendershot, game management supervisor for the Ohio Division of Wildlife. "We kill about 2,500 honkers a year, while the total kill for the 14-state Mississippi Flyway area is 317,000 birds. It is plain to see we are not over-killing them in Ohio."

Bucks To Open Play at Illinois

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio State's basketball Buckeyes travel to Illinois Saturday to open their Big Ten season after evening their record at 4-4 with a 100-81 victory over Brigham Young.

The Bucks pulled away Thursday night in the last 10 minutes when the Cougars were behind by only two points, 68-66.

Ohio State then went on a scoring spree quickly running up a 94-73 advantage.

All five Ohio starters shot in double figures with Larry Siegfried pacing the attack with 24 points.

But scoring honors for the night went to Brigham Young's Bob Skousen who fired in 39 points.

Bob Backus of the New York Athletic Club won his fifth straight National AAU indoor weight throwing championship last season.

Round Table Awaits Test As 4-Year-Old

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Round Table, the world's richest horse, makes his 4-year-old debut Saturday with his fans hoping for a better fate than befell Silky Sullivan in his first start of 1959 after a rags-to-riches-to-rags 3-year-old campaign.

The little hard-hitting Round Table from Travis Kerr's stable, who boosted his earnings to $1,336,364 en route to Horse of the Year honors in 1958, goes in the $50,000 added San Carlos Handicap at Santa Anita.

For the 7-furlong race, Round Table picks up top weight of 132 pounds and gives plenty of poundage to his rivals, who are expected to number as many as eight. Such proven sprinters as Seaneen and Hillsdale get in with 115 each while Golden Notes picks up 113 and Eddie Schmidt 112.

Silky Sullivan, whose slow starts and fast finishes caught the fancy of the racing fans last year before he, disappointed in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, lost a little more of his luster Thursday at Santa Anita.

Showing nothing, Silky finished sixth in a seven-horse field in a 6 1/2 furlong race. Under Willie Shoemaker, the nation's leading jockey last year, Silky was last at the start, last at the quarter and half-mile poles, fifth in the stretch and was beaten five lengths by the winner, Caronog, who paid $11.20.

"He obviously needed the race," was trainer Reggie Cornell's explanation of Silky's disappointing showing in the role of the odds-on favorite.

Veeck's Deal For Chisox Said Sealed

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Tribune says a syndicate headed by Bill Veeck has bought controlling interest in the Chicago White Sox but the stock sale officially was denied.

John Rigney, club vice president whose wife, Dorothy, is the majority stockholder, said Thursday night: "It is not true that the sale has been made. Negotiations still are going on."

Roy Egan, Comiskey attorney and a member of the board of directors, also denied completion of the sale.

"If anybody should know it would be me," he said. "Completion of such a sale has not been made and I don't know if it ever will be."

Veeck, former head of groups who owned the Cleveland Indians and old St. Louis Browns, declined to comment.

The Tribune said formal announcement is being held up pending further negotiations with Vice President Charles Comiskey, minority stockholder who has been bidding for the shares of his sister, Mrs. Rigney.

"Veeck's long range plans, it

Tigers Eye Test With Hillsboro

Circleville puts its first place South Central Ohio League lead on the line Saturday night when the highly respected Hillsboro Indians roll into town.

Coach Dick Snouffer's quintet will be seeking its fourth league win in as many starts. Hillsboro, 3-1 in loop play, holds second place in the SCOL.

A lot is at stake for the Tigers Saturday night. A win would give them a solid lead in the league, but a loss would send Hillsboro into first place.

The Tigers also will be out to protect their perfect home floor record, the result of wins over Franklin Heights, Washington

Riding Club Plans Show

Plans for a Spring Horse Show and Rodeo was a main item of business when the Circle Valley Riding Club met Sunday afternoon at the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Home.

The show will be held the first week in May. A tentative schedule of events was discussed.

Merchants desiring to sponsor a class in the May Show are requested to contact Ronald Eldridge, president of the club.

Officials reminded area horse enthusiasts that the club now is open for membership.

The next meeting will be held January 24 at the VFW.

Pro Golfers Set For 'Gold Rush'

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Professional golfers start another California gold rush today as they tee off in the first round of the $35,000 Los Angeles Open.

In five tournaments in California and at adjacent Tijuana, Mex., in the next month, a total of $145,000 prize money will be up for grabs.

Rated at the top are Ken Venturi of San Francisco, who has won approximately $100,000 in a little more than two years on the tourney trail; Dow Finsterwald of Tequesta, Fla., who won four tournaments last year; Jay Herbert, New Orleans; Billy Casper, Chula Vista, Calif.; Arnold Palmer, Latrobe, Pa., and Tommy Bolt, Houston, Tex.

Michigan State dropped boxing from its varsity sports program in 1958.

was learned, include the likelihood of selling Comiskey Park, home of the White Sox since 1910, and the possibility of playing in Soldier Field or elsewhere," the Tribune added.

Hank Greenberg, who recently sold his minority stock in the Cleveland Indians, reportedly is a member of the Veeck syndicate.

C. H. and Greenfield. The locals tasted defeat at Athens and Chillicothe in their only away games of the season.

STOPPING Hillsboro's Milt Bosworth probably will be the number one problem for the Tigers Saturday night. The veteran cager is a deadly shot and rebounds with the best in the league.

The high-scoring Bosworth has been a mainstay for Coach Ray Oliver's Indians for the last three seasons and as usual can be expected to give Circleville some trouble.

Coach Snouffer probably will stay with his ball control offense which features fast passing with the accent on getting clear shots at the hoop.

Getting the assignment to make this offense work probably will be Don Rowland and Asa Elsea at guards, Larry Hannan at center and Bob Shadley, Cal Ellis or Joe Adkins at forwards.

So far this season the Red and Black cagers have displayed a balanced scoring punch with Rowland, Shadley and Hannan alternating as top point makers.

Walt Arledge, sidelined the first four games with a football injury, will be available for duty. A letterman from last year, Arledge can be called on to play either the forward or guard posts.

Brigham Young Gets New Pilot

PROVO, Utah. (AP) —Brigham Young University promoted Tally Stevens from senior assistant to head football coach New Year's Day.

Stevens, 35, helped former coach Hal Kopp guide BYU to its highest Skyline Conference standing in its history.

President Ernest L. Wilkinson announced Stevens' appointment Thursday night. The salary terms or length of the contract were not disclosed, but Stevens said:

"I'm very happy with my contract."

College Cagers Now Eye Play In Conferences

Holiday Tournament

College basketball powers set their sights today on conference warfare following the greatest outburst of Christmas week tournament activity in the history of the game.

The hectic week of tournament jousting involved most of the leading top ten teams and rang up merry tunes on the cash registers. It also served to point up again the talent riches of the Atlantic Coast Conference, especially of North Carolina State, Dixie Classic champions, and North Carolina.

Bowdoin, beaten in its first eight starts, surprised Rutgers, 67-66, in the first round of the Downeast Classic, at Bangor, Maine. Bob Gorra's basket in the last two seconds put Bowdoin against Colby in the semifinals tonight. Colby beat Tufts, 64-55. The other semifinal matches St. Michael's, Vt. and Wesleyan.

Williams and Massachusetts moved into tonight's semifinals of the Springfield, Mass. College Invitational tournament. Williams avenged its only defeat of the season by trouncing Harvard, 83-67, and Massachusetts downed winless American International, 59-51. Springfield and Amherst, first round winners Wednesday, play in the other semifinal.

In non-tournament intersectional contests, Butler came from behind a nine point deficit in the first half to nose out Navy, 59-58 at Indianapolis, and Ohio State raced away from crippled Brigham Young in the last 10 minutes, for a 100-81 victory at Columbus, O., despite sophomore Bob Skousen's 39 point spree for the losing Cougars.

N. C. State's victory in its own Dixie Classic—which had four of the nation's top ten teams in the field—was most impressive.

The Wolfpack, on the prowl for the national title, whipped seventh-ranked, previously undefeated Michigan State, 70-61, in the championship contest. To get that far, the fifth-ranked Wolfpack edged Louisville in overtime, 67-61, then toppled Cincinnati's second-ranked Bearcats from the unbeaten ranks, 69-60.

Fourth-ranked North Carolina, which had been beaten by Michigan State, 75-58 in the semifinals, bounced back to nip Cincinnati for third place, 90-88.

To make it all the more delectable for ACC fans, Duke beat Louisville for fifth place, 57-54, and Wake Forest walloped Yale 85-76 for seventh.

Undefeated St. Francis of Loretto, Pa., and Louisiana Tech, copped the other major tournaments decided Wednesday night.

St. Francis surged back after blowing a 20-point lead with 16 minutes left to conquer Fordham, 74-71 for the Carrousel title at Charlotte, N. C.

Louisiana Tech subdued Virginia Tech, 71-66, in the overtime finale of the Gulf South Classic at Shreveport, La.

In major games outside of the tournaments on New Year's Eve, Northwestern's sixth-ranking Wildcats equaled its fieldhouse scoring record in trouncing Notre Dame 102-67 and St. Louis, ranked 16th, drubbed San Francisco 60-42.

Denny Moyer Due For Debut on TV

NEW YORK (AP)—Fight fans start the New Year with a look at something brand new in Denny Moyer, a 19-year-old welterweight from Portland, Ore. who has won all of his 18 pro fights.

Young Moyer, of French-Irish parentage, appears before a network (NBC) television camera for the first time tonight when he boxes sadfaced Gaspar Ortega of Mexico, Mexico in Madison Square Garden. The 10-round match also will be carried on NBC radio, starting at 10 p.m. (EST).

It may be that Moyer, a former AAU champ, will open and close in one. On the other hand, it may be the first of many appearances in the big arenas.

Nats Drop 7th Contest in Row

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
There's no middle ground for the Syracuse Nationals in the National Basketball Assn. They're either mighty good or terrible.

In the league's only game Thursday night, the Nats dropped their seventh straight game as rookie Elgin Baylor tapped in a goal for the Lakers with 20 seconds remaining for a 106-195 Minneapolis victory. Before starting their losing string, the Nationals had won seven in-a-row and before that they had lost eight straight.

The defeat placed the Nats only a half-game ahead of Philadelphia's cellar dwelling Warriors in the Eastern Division.

Dietzel admitted afterward that he called the scoring play "because Clemson was putting so much pressure on our quarterback when they went back to pass that I figured a halfback run-pass option would take more time." Rabb whose injury was not disclosed until halftime explained that his passing was handicapped and he was forced to abandon his wide-open offense for a ground game. He hit only two of seven passes.

Iowa never had a worry in the Rose Bowl, although they fumbled at the start. Led by Bob (Jet) Jeter, the Hawkeyes, winning their second Rose Bowl, rolled up 516 yards overall, 25 more than former recordholder Michigan in 1948 against Southern Cal.

Jeter ran 81 yards for one score, breaking Northwestern's Frank Aschenbrenner's record of 71 against Cal in 1949. He also gained 194 yards overall, 43 more than Bobby Grayson of Stanford against Columbia in 1934, the previous record.

Oklahoma used its blinding speed to build up a 14-0 first period lead, added another score in the third and then got pushed around for the rest of the game by a Syracuse line that didn't melt in the 78 degree heat.

Fullback Prentice Gault raced 42 yards on the second play of the game for the first Sooner score. Brewster Hobby combined with end Russ Coyle for a 79-yard pass play for the second TD—a new Orange Bowl record for distance, and Hobby took a punt 40 yards for the third score.

Mike Weber's 15-yard plunge in the final quarter got Syracuse, which won the battle of statistics, its TD.

There were 13 fumbles by Texas Christian and Air Force, each team losing three. TCU pushed deep into Air Force territory twice in the final minutes, but fumbles lost both opportunities. Air Force had two similar chances in the first half, and one in the second but couldn't cash in.

The Air Force's George Pupich missed three field goal tries and TCU's Jack Spikes two. Spikes was the game's leading back with 108 yards on 17 carries.

Prairie View scored four second half touchdowns to overcome an 8-6 halftime deficit. Halfback Archie Seals and fullback Jimmy Tolleston paced the winners, the national Negro collegiate champs.

The four major games were on national television and a total live audience of 331,082 sat in on 1959's first taste of college football. The largest turnout was 98,297 at the Rose, followed by the 82,000 at the Sugar, 75,504 at the Cotton and 75,281 at the Orange.

REVIEW OF THE YEAR—By Alan Maver
AUGUST

Number of Hunters in 1958 Declines, Ohio Agency Says

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Wildlife Division's books on the deer hunting season in Ohio thus far show the number of hunters is 20 per cent less than a year ago. The number of deer bagged is down only 14 per cent.

Out of 10,544 hunters reporting, 2,473 shot deer. At this time last year, 13,057 reported and 2,847 bagged a deer.

Division spokesmen said hunters do not have to mail deer report cards until Jan. 3. When all cards were in last year more than 48,000 hunters reported and 5,000 of them said they got a deer.

The gun season for deer was Dec. 10-13.

The Wildlife Division has plans for building three new fishing lakes in 1959. Hayden Olds, division chief, said the areas are 88-acre Shreve Lake in Wayne County, 100-acre Tyeon Lake in Gallia County, and 70-acre Spencer Lake in Medina County. Cost of building the lakes has been estimated at $194,000.

Construction of the new lakes is expected to begin before June and work will be finished in 1959.

"Ohio has no need to ration Canada geese," says William Henderson, game management supervisor for the Ohio Division of Wildlife. "We kill about 2,500 honkers a year, while the total kill for the 14-state Mississippi Flyway area is 317,000 birds. It is plain to see we are not over-killing them in Ohio."

Brown's Boys Favored in Senior Bowl

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—A proven scoring combination helped establish the South as a touchdown favorite in Saturday's Senior Bowl football game.

In giving Coach Paul Brown's squad the edge, the odds makers remembered last weekend's North-South Shrine Bowl game at Miami when Buddy Humphrey of Baylor threw three scoring passes to Mississippi State's Billy Stacy.

Humphrey also tossed two other touchdown aerials in the South's 49-20 victory in that game. He was the nation's top collegiate passer this season with 1,316 yards on 112 completions in 195 attempts.

Humphrey and Stacy will be in Brown's offensive backfield Saturday and it'll be a big surprise if they don't try to make plenty of yardage through the air.

The other South backs are Georgia's 200-pound fullback plunger, Theron Sapp, and another husky runner, 195-pound Don Brown of Houston.

Joe Kuharich's North squad is not lacking in passers of runners either.

He plans to start Boston College's Don Allard at quarterback. Allard, first round draft choice of the Washington Redskins, threw for seven touchdowns during the season. He passed for 691 yards.

To spell him is the No. 1 quarterback of 1957, Lee Grosscup of Utah. Grosscup, first draft choice of the New York Giants, led the nation in passing yardage a year ago with 1,398.

Round Table Awaits Test As 4-Year-Old

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Round Table, the world's richest horse, makes his 4-year-old debut Saturday with his fans hoping for a better fate than befell Silky Sullivan in his first start of 1959 after a rags-to-riches-to-rags 3-year-old campaign.

The little hard-hitting Round Table from Travis Kerr's stable, who boosted his earnings to $1,336,364 en route to Horse of the Year honors in 1958, goes in the $50,000 added San Carlos Handicap at Santa Anita.

For the 7-furlong race, Round Table picks up top weight of 132 pounds and gives plenty of poundage to his rivals, who are expected to number as many as eight. Such proven sprinters as Seaneen and Hillsdale get in with 115 each while Golden Notes picks up 113 and Eddie Schmidt 112.

Silky Sullivan, whose slow starts and fast finishes caught the fancy of the racing fans last year before he, disappointed in the Kentucky Derby and Preakness, lost a little more of his luster Thursday at Santa Anita.

Showing nothing, Silky finished sixth in a seven-horse field in a 6½ furlong race. Under Willie Shoemaker, the nation's leading jockey last year, Silky was last at the start, last at the quarter and half-mile poles, fifth in the stretch and was beaten five lengths by the winner, Coronat, who paid $11.20.

"He obviously needed the race," was trainer Reggie Cornell's explanation of Silky's disappointing showing in the role of the odds-on favorite.

Veek's Deal For Chisox Said Sealed

CHICAGO (AP)—The Chicago Tribune says a syndicate headed by Bill Veek has bought controlling interest in the Chicago White Sox but the stock sale officially was denied.

John Rigney, club vice president whose wife, Dorothy, is the majority stockholder, said Thursday night: "It is not true that the sale has been made. Negotiations still are going on."

Roy Egan, Comiskey attorney and a member of the board of directors, also denied completion of the sale.

"If anybody should know it would be me," he said. "Completion of such a sale has not been made and I don't know if it ever will be."

Veek, former head of groups who owned the Cleveland Indians and old St. Louis Browns, declined to comment.

The Tribune said formal announcement is being held up pending further negotiations with Vice President Charles Comiskey, minority stockholder who has been bidding for the shares of his sister, Mrs. Rigney.

"Veek's long range plans, it

Tigers Eye Test With Hillsboro

Circleville puts its first place South Central Ohio League lead on the line Saturday night when the highly respected Hillsboro Indians roll into town.

Coach Dick Snouffer's quintet will be seeking its fourth league win in as many starts. Hillsboro, 3-1 in loop play, holds second place in the SCOL.

A lot is at stake for the Tigers Saturday night. A win would give them a solid lead in the league, but a loss would send Hillsboro into first place.

The Tigers also will be out to protect their perfect home floor record, the result of wins over Franklin Heights, Washington

C. H. and Greenfield. The locals tasted defeat at Athens and Chillicothe in their only away games of the season.

STOPPING Hillsboro's Milt Bosworth probably will be the number one problem for the Tigers Saturday night. The veteran cager is a deadly shot and rebounds with the best in the league.

The high-scoring Bosworth has been a mainstay for Coach Ray Oliver's Indians for the last three seasons and as usual can be expected to give Circleville some trouble.

Coach Snouffer probably will stay with his ball control offense which features fast passing with the accent on getting clear shots at the hoop.

Getting the assignment to make this offense work probably will be Don Rowland and Asa Elsea at guards, Larry Hannans at center and Bob Shadley, Cal Ellis or Joe Atkins at forwards.

So far this season the Red and Black cagers have displayed a balanced scoring punch with Rowland, Shadley and Hannans alternating as top point makers.

Walt Arledge, sidelined the first four games with a football injury, will be available for duty. A letterman from last year, Arledge can be called on to play either the forward or guard posts.

Riding Club Plans Show

Plans for a Spring Horse Show and Rodeo was a main item of business when the Circle Valley Riding Club met Sunday afternoon at the local Veterans of Foreign Wars Home.

The show will be held the first week in May. A tentative schedule of events was discussed.

Merchants desiring to sponsor a class in the May show are requested to contact Ronald Eldridge, president of the club.

Officials reminded area horse enthusiasts that the club now is open for membership.

The next meeting will be held January 24 at the VFW.

Brigham Young Gets New Pilot

PROVO, Utah. (AP)—Brigham Young University promoted Tally Stevens from senior assistant to head football coach New Year's Day.

Stevens, 35, helped former coach Hal Kopp guide BYU to its highest Skyline Conference standing in its history.

President Ernest L. Wilkinson announced Stevens' appointment Thursday night. The salary terms or length of the contract were not disclosed, but Stevens said: "I'm very happy with my contract."

I Made Trip Through Space

Re-Entry's Scorching Heat Costs Reporter 3 Pounds

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of articles giving a reporter's experiences as he ventured into outer space via research equipment at Wright Air Development Center, Dayton.

By DOUG WALKER
Dayton Journal Herald Staff Writer

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The scorching heat of re-entry caused me to lose almost three pounds in two hours as my rocket ship nosed back to earth.

The blood flowed through my veins probably at twice its normal rate, according to Capt. Joseph Gold, M.D., the Wright Air Development Center (WADC) scientist who controlled the test, a simulated flight into outer space.

Under the eyes of WADC researchers I had blasted off into space, felt the vibrations, weightlessness, blackness and isolation.

I then re-entered the earth's atmosphere and felt the searing heat of space travel.

The room felt very hot and very dry. The temperature was 130 degrees. It hung there during the two hours I spent in the room.

I was clad in a suit of long underwear that was a maze of wires. I had 17 wires attached to my body, including one on my big toe.

Over the underwear I wore a lightweight flying suit. Every 15 minutes Capt. Gold took my blood pressure by means of remote instruments.

I sat in a large chair. About eight feet in front of me was a 4-by-4 foot double glassed window.

On the other side of the window Capt. Gold and two assistants stood, as a battery of devices recorded my temperature and heart movements.

The room was heated electrically.

Entering the room at 1:48 p.m., I began to perspire 10 minutes later. Although my face was sopping wet at 2:05 p. m., my hands were still dry and felt cool.

The heat seemed to press most intensely on my forehead.

I noted that everything in the room was hot to the touch, especially the metallic parts of the chair and instrument connections.

At 3 p.m. the observers outside the room said my face had become very red. I was beginning to become fatigued.

At 3:09 p.m. I noted that time was beginning to drag.

At 3:25 p.m. I felt as if I might be getting a headache—there was a slight throb. But the headache never developed.

After the first hour a loudspeaker hooked to a radio played Christmas and popular music to make the time go faster. Imagine jingle bells at 130 degrees.

After two hours, although a little fatigued, I felt relatively good. I had lost two pounds and 11 ounces.

In space, Capt. Gold explained, the heat—less than 500 degrees, it is hoped—may come in impulses. Their duration would be short, and ventilated suits would ward off the ill effects.

The spaceship itself doubtless will be very hot on re-entry.

In space travel at WADC I felt hot and cold sensations to a much lesser degree than when going up and coming down from 100,000 feet in the altitude chamber.

Being fitted into an MC-3A partial pressure suit with an MA-2 helmet was an experience in itself.

OSU Expert Says Odds Against Space Fliers Losing Way

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A navigation expert says there is little chance of a manned rocket becoming lost in outer space if it could manage to carry all the standard navigation aids now available.

Furthermore, says Arthur S. Cosler Jr., such a manned rocket could reach the moon or a planet if its course in flight could be corrected.

The chances are slim, however, that a ballistic shot could accomplish the same thing, he believes.

An unmanned missile has to rely on pre-determined calculations of interplanetary distance to hit its target, and man's knowledge of such distance is not exact, Cosler asserts.

Cosler is executive director of Ohio State University's mapping and charting research laboratory. The lab is currently conducting a research project for the Air Force on navigation techniques for flights into outer space.

Prince of Peace Contest Sunday

The District Prince of Peace Declaration Contest will be held in the Broad Street Presbyterian Church, Columbus, at 3:00 p. m. Sunday.

Miss Carol McFarland, winner of the Pickaway County contest will be a participant in this contest.

The public is invited to attend.

The Mammoth Cave in Kentucky was used for mining salt-peter in the War of 1812.

self. The suit must fit snugly, so laces—very much like shoe laces—must be adjusted to the individual.

Before ascending, I breathed pure oxygen for two hours to rid my body of nitrogen.

At 25,000 feet my arms felt very cool because the perspiration had evaporated.

At 50,000 feet the suit was inflated and very tight. The helmet seemed to rise, and I pulled a strap to readjust it.

At 65,000 feet the suit felt very tight on the back of my knees, and it was an effort to draw my elbows in and pull my knees together to assume the ejection position.

At 100,000 feet—almost the same as the atmosphere (or vacuum) on the inside of a light bulb—the pressure from the suit felt very strong on the calves of my legs. (I became a member of the Century Club, composed of persons, mainly military, who have experienced 100,000 feet.)

From the top altitude I dropped to 40,000 feet in four seconds. It was a wonderful sensation. I became very warm for a few seconds and the suit seemed to collapse. It had been holding me in a rigid position for some time.

At 20,000 feet the face plate of my helmet was removed and I returned to ground level.

Cuba Starts To Recover as Batista Flees

The capital quieted down Thursday night after an orgy of celebration, looting and retaliation against supporters of Batista. Three policemen and 10 looters were reported killed.

There was no indication that any of the 12,000 Americans in Havana had been harmed. The State Department said in Washington it had no plans for evacuating U.S. citizens.

With the Havana International Airport closed and cruise ships avoiding the city, however, the U. S. Embassy announced a ship was on the way from Key West to take home stranded tourists.

Batista gave up the presidency and fled to the Dominican Republic early Thursday. His family and scores of his top officials departed hastily with him or in planes and boats for the United States.

Batista said he was quitting to save Cuba from further bloodshed. Castro sought to restore order as soon as possible, both to stop bloodshed and to protect Cuba's normally prosperous economy. Sugar and sugar products make up 75 per cent of national exports and the cane grinding season is at hand.

To head the armed forces, Castro appointed Col. Ramon Barquin, who had just been released from a Batista prison with 700 other political prisoners. Barquin broadcast an appeal from the military headquarters at nearby Camp Columbia for the people of Havana and the nation to remain peacefully in their homes.

There were reports that some army units might resist Castro's advance to Havana from Santiago. Prospects for resistance seemed to be dimming hourly, however.

There was no indication of continued fighting anywhere in Cuba between Batista's 37,000 troops and the rebels.

The sudden collapse of Batista apparently resulted from the first major battle of the rebellion. Three columns of rebels who previously had risked only hit-and-run raids and small battles launched an attack last weekend on Santa Clara. Batista had to hold this vital road and rail center in the middle of Cuba to maintain ground contact with the eastern end of the island.

The president threw tanks, warplanes, artillery and reinforced infantrymen into the battle against rebel foot soldiers. By New Year's Eve rebel casualties were estimated by Batista's regime at 3,000 dead and wounded. The government said it had suffered 1,000 or more casualties.

These losses caused Batista to decide to give up. He was in danger of having the army turn on him rather than continue to suffer such casualties.

While continuing to claim publicly that the rebels were losing and would be stamped out, Batista had a plane standing by.

The dictator gathered his top henchmen around him at Camp Columbia on New Year's Eve. He broke off a toast to peace and prosperity to announce that he was giving up the presidency and leaving.

About 3:30 a.m. he flew off in his personal DC3 to Ciudad Trujillo, capital of friendly fellow dictator Rafael Trujillo of the Dominican Republic. Batista's wife, three of his children and a number of top aides accompanied him. They included Prime Minister Gonzalo Guell and the man Batista had picked to succeed him on Feb. 24, Andres Rivero Aguiro, who was named president on Nov. 3 in an election that Castro called fraudulent.

Other top Batista supporters fanned out from the island. Planesloads of them landed at six U.S. airports from New York to New Orleans. Small boats sailed for Key West.

Before departing, Batista willed whatever authority he had to a three-man military junta headed by Gen. Eulogio Cantillo, a 47-year-old career military man. Cantillo immediately followed

U.S. Consumer May Be King But Throne Costs To Rise

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — In 1959 once more you will be told that as a consumer you are king. But the cost of maintaining the throne may go up before the year ends. If your own income goes up too — as many a person's will — you'll still have to keep a careful eye on how you spend it.

Here's the outlook for your job and pay, for the cost of eating, for outfitting your family and buying and furnishing a home, for buying and paying for a car and for meeting your tax bills:

JOBS—Should be more plentiful come spring.

Unemployment will rise in the first months of the year. But with the opening up of outdoor work later on some whittling down of the total of the jobless is expected.

Industry, however, will have to find work for half a million more persons who will enter the labor force in 1959. The jobless rolls may still stay unpleasantly high. Plant shutdowns should be much fewer in 1959.

The real fear now: Big strikes could be brewing in some basic industries.

PERSONAL INCOME — Wage scales are still rising.

So are fees and charges for services. Business profits are picking up again and promise a little more income for stockholders — and maybe some salary hikes. As a whole consumers are expected to have more money to spend—and to spend it.

LIVING COSTS — The heat is on for another boost.

In early 1959 the rise in the cost of services will be offset by easier food prices. But inflationary pressures will build up throughout 1959 — federal deficit financing, the wage-price spiral, some lessening of competition as industrial recovery takes up some of the slack of too much production capacity.

FOOD — Eating will be cheaper for a time.

The bumper crops of 1958 assure abundance for the table — and for the feedlots. As 1959 starts wholesale food prices are dropping, promising a better retail market. Hog prices are declining and cattle prices are expected to later on. Then the weather man will take over again. What the crops of 1959 will be — who knows?

SERVICES — Their cost rises steadily.

Transportation costs are under constant upward pressure, whether for commuters or city bus and subway riders, or the price and upkeep and insurance on the family car, and the cost of parking it when you get there. Medical and personal care will cost more, and so may all manner of repair bills and recreation. As utility operating costs mount so does the clamor for higher rates.

CLOTHING — Prices are on a see-saw.

Most raw materials are down in price or at least fairly steady. But manufacturing costs tend to rise all along the line.

NEW HOMES — As costly to build and costlier to finance. Tight money is the chief bugaboo. Home buyers tend to ignore interest rate rises, but builders say it may be harder to find lenders to finance mortgages. Furnishing homes may get more costly.

NEW CARS — You'll be wooed as never before.

Detroit hopes almost desperately that 1959 will see the turn in the tide. Prices are a bit higher than on the 1958 models but in 1959 you'll haggle with the dealer on his estimate of the used car market.

TAXES — Give up hope all ye who enter here.

Talk of tax cuts died with the big federal deficit. The trend all along the line is toward higher taxes. Already, federal, state and local authorities are exploring new ways of broadening the tax base or of increasing rates of existing ones (like gasoline or cigarettes).

Add it up: A slow recovery seems sure during the first part of the year, although unemployment will stay high. The second half, viewed from this distance, looks better in most lines.

Pressing fears: That old debbil inflation and the threat of major strikes.

I Made Trip Through Space

Re-Entry's Scorching Heat Costs Reporter 3 Pounds

Editor's Note: Following is the last in a series of articles giving a reporter's experiences as he ventured into outer space via research equipment at Wright Air Development Center, Dayton.

By DOUG WALKER
Dayton Journal Herald Staff Writer

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — The scorching heat of re-entry caused me to lose almost three pounds in two hours as my rocket ship nosed back to earth.

The blood flowed through my veins probably at twice its normal rate, according to Capt. Joseph Gold, M.D., the Wright Air Development Center (WADC) scientist who controlled the test, a simulated flight into outer space.

Under the eyes of WADC researchers I had blasted off into space, felt the vibrations, weightlessness, blackness and isolation.

I then re-entered the earth's atmosphere and felt the searing heat of space travel.

The room felt very hot and very dry. The temperature was 130 degrees. It hung there during the two hours I spent in the room.

I was clad in a suit of long underwear that was a maze of wires. I had 17 wires attached to my body, including one on my big toe.

Over the underwear I wore a lightweight flying suit.

Every 15 minutes Capt. Gold took my blood pressure by means of remote instruments.

I sat in a large chair. About eight feet in front of me was a 4-by-4 foot double glassed window.

On the other side of the window Capt. Gold and two assistants stood, as a battery of devices recorded my temperature and heart movements.

The room was heated electrically.

Entering the room at 1:48 p.m., I began to perspire 10 minutes later. Although my face was sweating wet at 2:05 p.m., my hands were still dry and felt cool.

The heat seemed to press most intensely on my forehead.

I noted that everything in the room was hot to the touch, especially the metallic parts of the chair and instrument connections.

At 3 p.m. the observers outside the room said my face had become very red. I was beginning to become fatigued.

At 3:09 p.m. I noted that time was beginning to drag.

At 3:25 p.m. I felt as if I might be getting a headache—there was a slight throbbing. But the headache never developed.

After the first hour a loudspeaker hooked to a radio played Christmas and popular music to make the time go faster. Imagine jingle bells at 130 degrees.

After two hours, although a little fatigued, I felt relatively good. I had lost two pounds and 11 ounces.

In space, Capt. Gold explained, the heat—less than 500 degrees, it is hoped—may come in impulses. Their duration would be short, and ventilated suits would ward off the ill effects.

The spaceship itself doubtless will be very hot on re-entry.

In space travel at WADC I felt hot and cold sensations to a much lesser degree than when going up and coming down from 100,000 feet in the altitude chamber.

Being fitted into an MC-3A partial pressure suit with an MA-2 helmet was an experience in itself.

OSU Expert Says Odds Against Space Fliers Losing Way

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A navigation expert says there is little chance of a manned rocket becoming lost in outer space if it could manage to carry all the standard navigation aids now available.

Furthermore, says Arthur S. Cosler Jr., such a manned rocket could reach the moon or a planet if its course in flight could be corrected.

The chances are slim, however, that a ballistic shot could accomplish the same thing, he believes.

An unmanned missile has to rely on pre-determined calculations of interplanetary distance to hit its target, and man's knowledge of such distance is not exact, Cosler asserts.

Cosler is executive director of Ohio State University's mapping and charting research laboratory. The lab is currently conducting a research project for the Air Force on navigation techniques for flights into outer space.

Notation Made Of Resolutions Affecting Purse

Both U.S. Business, Government Get Eye After Voicing Pledges

NEW YORK (AP) — This is the day we start breaking New Year's resolutions.

Let's look at some that have been made by business and government officials — ones that affect our pocketbooks.

President Eisenhower has resolved to stand firm for a balanced federal budget in the fiscal year coming up. If he can make this resolution stick, there will be no new inflationary pressure from another Treasury deficit — and no need for a general tax increase.

Various congressional leaders have promised to keep the spending urge in bounds so that tax collections will have a chance to keep Uncle Sam out of the red — or at least not too far in it. If this resolution survives the upcoming session of Congress, taxpayers will have at least a breather if not relief.

The Federal Reserve Board has resolved to see that the business recovery will be backed by enough money and credit to keep it rolling along at a sensible pace — but not enough to stimulate speculation and thus threaten a boom and bust.

Various lending institutions are promising there will be enough money for mortgages — unless a new inflation makes building costs too high or a return to a tight money policy makes funds scarce.

A number of corporations have resolved to put out large sums this year on new plants or equipment. If this adds up, as now expected, to a slight increase in business spending over 1958 the business recovery will have attained an important ally.

Some industries are promising to hold the line on prices and many think the price line generally will be held pretty stable. This resolution is threatened from many angles — monetary inflation, or rising labor and distribution costs. And the National Assn. of Credit Management flatly predicts that the government's wholesale price index for all commodities will rise to a record high by midyear.

But before you get too cheered up by all the goodies being promised as the year starts, remember this: The federal government is taking a bigger slice out of your paycheck now.

NEW CARS — You'll be wooed as never before.

Detroit hopes almost desperately that 1959 will see the turn in the tide. Prices are a bit higher than on the 1958 models but in 1959 you'll haggle with the dealer on his estimate of the used car market.

TAXES — Give up hope all ye who enter here.

Talk of tax cuts died with the big federal deficit. The trend all along the line is toward higher taxes. Already, federal, state and local authorities are exploring new ways of broadening the tax base or of increasing rates of existing ones (like gasoline or cigarettes).

Add it up: A slow recovery seems sure during the first part of the year, although unemployment will stay high. The second half, viewed from this distance, looks better in most lines.

Pressing fears: That old debbil inflation and the threat of major strikes.

Indicted Teamster Ends Libel Action

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP) — A Teamsters Union official, indicted in Portland's vice probe, has dropped a $1,560,000 libel suit against a newspaper, two reporters and a gambler.

Clyde C. Crosby, the Teamsters Union international representative in Oregon, asked for the dismissal of the suit in State Circuit Court.

Seven suits originally had been filed against the Oregonian; reporters William Lambert and Wallace Turner; and Portland gambler "Big Jim" Elkins.

Lambert and Turner won a Pulitzer Prize for stories they wrote on the lengthy investigation.

This Chess Player Displays Patter

DETROIT (AP)—For the last 18 months Ray Pearson has been playing a game of chess by mail with Wallis A. Cady of Clearwater, Fla.

Cady wrote Tuesday to remind Pearson he hadn't made a move in seven months.

"I thought it was his move," Pearson explained.
